COCKSURE GOP OPENS CONVENTION

Workers Get Pay Increase

8 Per Cent Boost Given Approval

An eight per cent wage increase, giving approximately 7,500 Westinghouse hourly and salaried employes in Mansfield an average of 12 cents more per hour in their paychecks, was agreed upon last night by the company and CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, in Pittsburgh.

J. H. Ashbaugh, vice president of the appliance division, said the wage boost will amount to "approximately $160,000 more per month" for workers at the Mansfield plant. Present monthly payroll at the plant is about $2,000,000, Ashbaugh said.

The agreement is subject to ratification of UE locals by July 1. It provides that increases be retroactive to June 11, date of the original six per cent offer made by Westinghouse.

GET 7 PAID HOLIDAYS

Ending months of negotiations, the settlement approximates offers made by both General Motors and General Electric. Some 70,000 employes will be affected by the agreement, which provides hourly wage boosts from nine to 16 cents plus an additional paid holiday — Washington's birthday —making a total of seven paid holidays.

Salaried workers earning up to $625 a month will receive the eight per cent boost, plus a one-half cent per hour additional to compensate for the new paid holiday granted hourly paid workers.

Westinghouse workers got a 15-cent-an-hour increase April 18, 1947.

In Cleveland, some 6,000 workers of the General Electric corporation will be given an average increase of 11 cents an hour. Their two-year contract, calling for the wage boost, was ratified yesterday by about 550 members of Local 707, UE. Also retroactive to June 11, the settlement calls for a minimum increase of nine cents an hour or eight per cent, whichever is larger. The maximum increase, as given by Westinghouse, is 16 cents.

Ford Offers 11-Cent Hike

DETROIT — (AP) — The Ford Motor company today offered a 11 to 14 cent an hour wage increase to its 110,000 CIO United Auto Workers.

The proposal called for a 14-cent an hour boost to employes making $1.50 or more an hour. Those making less than $1.50 would receive 11 cents an hour.

Ford said this system would "erase many of the inequities in our present wage structure."

The union had asked Ford for a 30-cent an hour increase. The average wage now is slightly above $1.50 an hour.

City's Crusade Donations Lag

Mansfield was falling down today in providing its share of the Crusade for Children funds.

So far only $100 has been received by Sherman Wentz, treasurer of the Mansfield drive, and of that amount $30 was given by Hi-fun members of the YMCA and YWCA. Most of the remaining $70 was in five and 10 dollar amounts.

Hi-fun members have been saving their pennies toward this drive, Ralph Chapman, of the YMCA said today. Last week, when initial plans were launched for the city's share in the campaign, council members of the Hi-fun voted to give $30.

Although the campaign here was expected to close officially today, the last day of a four-day drive, Wentz said it would be extended another couple of days to permit others to contribute.

Heads Schools

WOOSTER —(AP)— Ralph Ely, superintendent of nearby Apple Creek schools, was appointed today as Wayne county school superintendent. He succeeds Ralph Hathaway, who has resigned to accept a position at Heidelberg college.

CIO Wins Test of Taft Law

Opinion On Act Withheld

WASHINGTON — (INS)— The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that the CIO did not violate the Taft-Hartley law's ban on union political expenditures by publishing a political editorial in its newspaper.

The high court refused to rule, however, on the broader question of whether the labor law provision is constitutional.

It said that in passing the ban congress did not mean to ban political discussions in union newspapers, nor the distribution of those newspapers.

The court's action affirmed a lower court's dismissal of a government suit against the CIO and CIO President Philip Murray who were charged with having violated the Taft-Hartley law in printing in the CIO News an endorsement of a political candidate.

BY-PASSES OPINION

The Supreme Court, however, by-passed an opinion on the lower court's ruling that the ban on political spending was unconstitutional, saying:

"We express no opinion as to the scope of this section where different circumstances exist and none upon the constitutionality of the section."

The high court held, in an opinion written by Justice Reed, that the CIO and its president were charged only with publishing political statements in the union newspaper, which was distributed "in regular course to those accustomed to receive copies." The opinion went on:

"We are unwilling to say that congress by its prohibition against corporations or labor organizations making an expenditure in connection with any election of candidates for federal office intended to outlaw such a publication. We do not think section 313 (the political ban) reaches such a use of corporate or labor organization funds."

Soviet Again Blocks Trains

BERLIN — (INS) — Soviet guards blocked the passage of a United States military train to Berlin for the second time today by insisting on a thorough examination of its contents.

It was predicted that the U. S. will resume immediately large-scale air transport to Berlin from the American zone.

Meanwhile, Russian plans for currency reform in the Soviet zone of Germany went into high gear. The Soviets called the German economic council for the Russian zone into special session today. They summoned the chiefs of finance of the German states in their zone to a meeting with bank directors of the main banks in the area tonight.

TRAILER CRASHES—Three Indiana residents were injured early today when their house trailer jack-knifed, throwing the car and its occupants into a field along U. S. Route 30 east of Mansfield. State patrolmen said the trailer was a total wreck.

Four Injured In 2 Crashes

Trailer Overturns On U. S. Route 30

Three Indiana residents were injured early today when their auto and house trailer left the highway on U. S. Route 30-E, the house trailer overturning. The accident occurred five miles east of Mansfield. A Mansfielder was injured in another mishap Sunday.

The injured are:

S/Sgt. Donald Stout of Lapel, Ind., stationed with the 916th army air corps base unit at Roslyn Heights, N. Y.

Mrs. Dora Stout, 21, wife of the sergeant.

Miss Juanita Fulk, 25, sister of Mrs. Stout.

Stout was the only one of the trio admitted to General hospital. He suffered cuts and bruises. Mrs. Stout received bruises and Miss Fulk suffered possible rib fractures and bruises. Both women were treated at the hospital and released.

State highway patrolmen said all three were riding in the auto when the accident occurred. The trailer, which was demolished, was not occupied at the time.

Stout told patrolmen the trailer began to sway on the highway then jack-knifed and overturned, causing him to lose control of the auto, which ran into a field.

In an accident in Mansfield early Sunday, Minor I. Haggard, 27, of Mansfield, R. D. 6, suffered lacerations of the scalp when his car struck a tree at the northeast corner of Park avenue west and West Park drive.

Haggard told police he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car as he attempted a left turn into West Park drive. The accident occurred at 4:16 a. m. Sunday. Haggard was treated at General hospital and released.

Today's Longest Day of Year

Dreary Skies Mark Summer's Arrival

This is the first day of summer, but only one of the three longest days of the year on the basis of the length of time between sunrise and sunset.

The summer solstice occurred at 8:11 a. m. when the direct rays of the sun fell on that imaginary line called the equator.

According to weather bureau Forecaster Milton Davis in Cleveland, the sun will be up exactly 911 minutes today. But "Old Sol" also was shining the same number of minutes yesterday and will repeat its performance to the very minute tomorrow.

Beginning Wednesday, the sun will rise about the same time but set one minute earlier, cutting the time to 910 minutes. Fortunately, the recession toward winter is slow—for it will take another seven days before the duration of sunshine is cut to 909 minutes on June 30.

Davis said that the weather appears to be in tune with the season as he forecast muggy conditions, with scattered showers and thunderstorms today, tomorrow and very likely Wednesday.

Mansfielders took advantage of ideal weather yesterday to move outdoors for picnics and motor trips. The temperature reached a comfortable 75 yesterday afternoon and dropped to 55 this morning.

All-in-all, Ohio is leaving behind a fairly pleasant spring period, the weatherman said.

The temperature has been pretty close to normal, but there were few hot days. Except for a dry spell in late May and early June, rainfall was adequate, and crops in the Richland county area look good.

Delay Vote On Merger

OBERLIN —(AP)— The general council of the Congregational Christian churches delayed action today on a new plan to speed merger of that denomination and the Evangelical and Reformed church.

The council, now at the halfway point of an eight-day biennial meeting of 2,000 delegates, decided to take up the matter again tomorrow.

A large part of the session was spent in wrangling over a motion by Dr. Frederick Meek, of Old South church, Boston, to make approval of the basis of UNION conditional upon inclusion of interpretations qualifying sections of the document.

The basis of union was formulated in six years of conferences between the two churches as a guide for organizing a United Church of Christ with a membership of 2,000,000.

Platform Fight Seen As Likely

Vandenberg Plank Hit

PHILADELPHIA—(UP)— A foreign policy plank patterned after the Vandenberg brand of internationalism may set off the biggest intra-party fight at the Republican convention.

The tip-off came today from Sen. Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut as the Republicans hammered their platform into shape.

Baldwin frankly disagreed with the view of Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, jr., (Mass.) that the proposed 2400-word statement of party principles is one which all elements of the party can support enthusiastically.

Baldwin, identified with the internationalist wing of the party, expects trouble from the so-called isolationist faction on the proposed foreign policy blank. It reportedly takes a firm stand for international cooperation and for economic assistance to needy non-communist nations.

NO 'ME TOO' VIEW

Lodge, chairman of the resolutions committee and of the seven-man subcommittee which drafted the tentative platform, said it was not a "me too" endorsement of administration handling of foreign affairs. He indicated that it proposed a firm, affirmative commitment by the United States to assume and keep its world leadership role.

A strong undercurrent of intra party conflict on foreign policy burst to the surface in the last days of the 80th congress when house and senate conferees locked in a gruelling tug-of-war on appropriations for foreign aid programs. The house finally modified its original decision to make deep cuts in foreign spending.

But the foreign policy plank wasn't the only likely source of controversy before the GOP platform is adopted. There were others such as civil rights, housing and national defense.

Lovers Found Dead In Lake

ELY, Vt. —(UP)— The bodies of two married sweethearts who, police said, took their lives because they weren't free to wed, were found roped together in Lake Fairlee.

Sheriff Larry T. Welch said Wayne Taplin, 37, and Mrs. Blanche Pichette, 42, both of Tunbridge, apparently bound themselves together and then leaped into the water from a rowboat 250 feet from shore.

'Big 3' Makes Last Minute Bid for Votes

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia — (INS) — The 24th Republican national convention, cocksure of naming the next president of the United States, opened today with terrific enthusiasm.

Formal opening of the biggest political show on earth was delayed by the late arrival of some of the party leaders, among them Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin jr., of Massachusetts, who was back-slapped black and blue as he elbowed his way through the delegates.

It was 10:28 a. m. (Mansfield time) when the gavel fell and the convention came to order. Ninety-one minutes later, the convention recessed until 8 p. m. after hearing four speeches, all forecasting victory in November.

The throng of more than 10,000 cheered lustily as National Chairman Carroll Reece promised deliverance from what he called the "economic cannibalism" of the New Deal.

The 1,094 delegates then swiftly approved as temporary chairman Gov. Dwight E. Green of Illinois, who tonight will deliver the keynote address.

The "big three" of the convention—the men most prominently in the running for the presidential nomination — were conspicuously absent as the conclave got under way in a blaze of lights, salvos and cheers and an atmosphere of cocksure confidence.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and Harold Stassen of Minnesota remained in downtown Philadelphia making last-minute preparations for the all-important balloting which begins Wednesday night.

However, Gov. Earl Warren of California, Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin jr., of Massachusetts, and other presidential possibilities were on hand for the tumultuously enthusiastic opening session.

Taft said he viewed the contest for the nomination as "two-man" race between himself and Dewey. He said he believed he had a "better chance of winning."

The convention floor buzzed with rumors of the possibility that Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan might emerge as the number 1 man.

UNITED IN SPIRIT

But as Walter S. Hallanan of West Virginia, chairman of the arrangements committee, called the conclave to order, the 1,904 delegates and the spectators jamming the vast galleries seemed united in the spirit of victory.

The huge semi-circular arena was bright with red, white and blue bunting and ablaze with the powerful lights which are helping to make this the first thoroughly televised convention in history.

APPLAUD WARREN

Gov. Earle Warren of California, not only a dark horse for the presidential nomination but a favorite for second spot of the ticket, drew applause when he sauntered into the hall.

Warren held a brief "reception" near the Oregon state standard, shaking at least a hundred hands in five minutes.

Hallanan drew the first big salvo of cheers when he told the delegates:

"We are back in Philadelphia to nominate the next president of the United States."

The official call for convention (Continued on Page 2)

Choose GOP Or Reds, Says Reece

Republican Chief Sees Party Victory

CONVENTION HALL, Philadelphia —(UP)— National Chairman Reece kicked off the GOP convention today with a declaration that the nation must choose between the Republicans and the communists.

He told the assembled delegates that there is no doubt in his mind that the country will go Republican this year.

Reece was the principal speaker at the first session of the convention. In his address, as prepared for delivery, he made it plain that his party intends to make communism a major issue again.

He said the Democratic party is "torn by philosophic and sectional differences" and "is incapable of offering an effective resistance to the march of radical aggression." The New Deal, he said, opened the door to radicals in government.

Describing the Republicans as the "undeviating defenders of the principles of our representative government," Reece defended the GOP-controlled 80th congress against President Truman's criticism of its record. He said it had "stood for principle rather than expediency."

PLAYS NO FAVORITES

Reece played no favorites among the GOP presidential hopefuls. Never, he said, has a party been blessed with so many capable candidates.

"Republicans may disagree as to method but they never disagree as to the final objective," he said. "Today we have a united party. In our party we have no radical wing, no Moscow wing and no Pendergast wing."

"The most urgent task in the world today is the revitalization of the principles which alone made America strong and which alone can keep her strong—a bulwark against tyranny at home and abroad," he said.

"Thank God, this task is entrusted to the Republican party."

Tonight's Program

PHILADELPHIA—(UP)—Here is the program for tonight's Republican national convention:

Called to order at 8 p. m. (Mansfield time) by Chairman Carroll Reece.

Invocation by Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, archbishop of Philadelphia.

Keynote address by Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois.

Address for former Rep. Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut.

Adjournment until 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Congress Votes Long-Needed Probe of FCC

—An Editorial

NEWS THAT CONGRESS is to investigate the Federal Communications commission is a heartening disclosure.

An inquiry into the FCC's high-handed exercise of self-generated authority over the radio industry generally, and broadcast licensing in particular, is long overdue.

Investigation of the FCC was authorized in a resolution adopted by an overwhelming vote in the House of Representatives in Washington Saturday. The five-man investigating board, which the resolution sets up, will have a signal opportunity to do an outstanding service.

Such a committee, if its work is conducted vigorously and fearlessly, can light the way for straightening out what has been aptly termed "the sorriest department of government."

A thorough-going inquiry can lay the groundwork for bringing real freedom to the radio and broadcasting industry. Most important of all, the committee should strive to make it everlastingly clear that the FCC, as a creature of Congress, must act as an agency to administer laws written by Congress and reiterated by the Supreme Court.

In many of its actions during the last 10 years, the Federal Communications commission has exercised its rigid control over the fast-growing radio industry in accordance with ideas and ideologies of its members, the law and the Congress notwithstanding.

Five years ago a select committee of Congress attempted to clean up the FCC mess. Although this committee went only a little way beneath the surface, the disclosures of irregularities, favoritism, exercise of special privilege and usurpation of power and authority were so glaring and reached into such high places that the whole probe was stymied by executive intervention, administrative pressure and smelly tactics involving personal smear and smoke-screens.

While the FCC and its machinations undoubtedly could provide many months of work for an investigative body, Mansfield and other Ohio cities will be particularly interested in disclosures concerning the FCC's stewardship of the trust it exercises over broadcasting rights in this state and area.

The case of Edward Lamb, red-tinged Toledo lawyer who received five broadcasting permits in two weeks—which he now admits was two more than he could use—appears to have been the proverbial straw that broke the camel's back. The facts behind Lamb and his communistic writings, and his associations and affiliations with communist-connected groups and "front" organizations was a big factor in bringing the situation to a head.

There are many pertinent questions to be answered and many explanations due from the FCC concerning its dealings with Mr. Lamb. Both the Congress and the public are entitled to know, for instance:

Why the FCC granted five additional broadcasting permits in two weeks to a man with Lamb's record and background? How, indeed, were his first two licenses obtained—those for the standard and FM broadcasting stations he now operates in Toledo?

If The News-Journal and a few courageous congressmen had not been sufficiently interested to bring the whole deal out into the open, where would Lamb and his friends on the FCC have been content to stop?

Why did Lamb go to the trouble and expense of preparing

Television Pictures Convention For Persons (Dems) Not Invited

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Who do you reckon invited those doggone Democrats to spy by television on the Republican convention which started today in Philadelphia?

You never would guess. It was Mr. Joseph William Martin jr., Republican, of North Attleboro, the speaker of the House of Representatives.

Joe, as you might know, wouldn't mind sitting on Mr. Truman's White House balcony and picking up a sun tan. Officially.

Anyhow, all this stuff happened this way:

Bob Coar, affable coordinator of the joint Senate and House recording radio studios, so-called, sent every member of Congress a fine little letter. It began:

"Through the courtesy of Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin and the loan of two large screen television receivers from G. E., we shall be able to provide complete television showings of both national conventions. . ."

★

Okay. There you are. The silence that came from the Republican side of Congress, naturally, didn't bust any eardrums. They will be on the sending end next week.

But the Democrats! Boy, they thought it was wonderful!

Two sets have been installed in the caucus room of the old house office building—on the third floor. The public won't have to pay a dime in taxes for all of this. But, not having paid anything, the public wasn't invited. This was an invitation deal. Exclusively.

The caucus room, where many a Democratic and Republican policy have been settled, seats about 500. Lights, camera. Let's have a preview:

The lines settle down on the 18 by 24-inch screen and the Demos in the back of the room arch necks. Somebody says "Harold Stassen!"

The cheers that come through the loud speaker are deafening. But the boos that well up in the caucus room, being local, lick 'em.

"Who's Stassen?" says some Democrat, most likely.

Then along comes the Dewey crowd before the screen. The banners shimmer on the screen and the screams come out of the horn, as they did for Stassen.

Same performance in the back of the room, which is filled with Democrats who weren't invited to Philadelphia this time.

Ditto for Taft, Warren, Martin (who sent out the invitations), Vandenberg and the other Republican hopefuls.

★

A couple of Republicans in the room — probably — fellows who didn't happen to be delegates to their own convention are not too happy about the boos.

"Wait 'till July," one of 'em says. "Just wait. We still got our tickets to this thing. We'll be back. This is your show, you Democrats. We'll have our time later."

The tickets, of course, are good for the duration. When the Republicans come home and the Democrats move into the same hall, in Philadelphia—

Then, the tables turn.

Odd Facts Gathered From History About Presidents, and Elections

LITTLE FACTS ON BIG JOB—George Washington was not the first President of the United States. The first man to bear that title was John Hanson of Maryland . . . George Washington was merely the first to bear the title under the Constitution, but half a dozen men held the title before him under the Articles of Confederation.

★

New York is far more a national barometer than Maine. . . . Only 4 Presidents were ever elected without carrying N. Y. State. . . . Woodrow Wilson in 1916 won a gambler's 1,000 to 1 shot—he was elected President, though he failed to carry both N. Y. and Pennsylvania.

★

Only 6 Presidents were elected while they were still in their forties . . . Only 5 took office after 60. Thus the "odds" are two to one that an American President will be between 50 and 60 when he takes office. From the records, the chances are 2 out of 3 that an American President will be a lawyer, and about 2 out of 7 that he will be of military background. . . . Incidentally, Presidents John Adams and Thomas Jefferson both died on July 4, 1826, exactly 50 years from the day they had signed the Declaration of Independence.

Some of the queerest accidents in our history have come about in the election of Presidents . . . Until 1820 there were no popular votes, no conventions and no platforms . . . In 1800 Thomas Jefferson was selected by the House of Representatives after a 73-73 tie with Aaron Burr . . . In 1824, although Andrew Jackson had the most electoral college votes and by far the popular plurality, he did not have the majority. Under the Constitution the House of Representatives decided. Henry Clay bitterly threw his support to John Quincy Adams, and Adams, who led in neither the electoral college nor popular vote, defeated Jackson and became President!

The greatest defeat of the popular will occurred in the Tilden-Hayes election of 1876. Governor Tilden, Democrat of N. Y., led, even in the final count, by 250,000 in the popular vote . . . Someone remarked the Southern vote wasn't in yet. Then started the greatest election skulduggery in our history . . . Two sets of returns were sent from Florida, Louisiana, South Carolina and Oregon . . . The Congress appointed an electoral commission. The commission vote was disgracefully on strict party lines. It declared Hayes elected by one electoral college vote. The Republican Senate recognized Hayes, and the Democratic House declared Tilden President . . . Historians are almost unanimously agreed the Presidency was stolen from Tilden. The country was at the point of of another civil war, until Tilden stepped forward and urged his followers to abide by the result of the commission. (Tilden left four million to the N. Y. Public Library, but a will contest cut it down to two million.)

★

Runaway conventions are the nightmares of political bosses . . Garfield swept the Republican convention of 1880 by his speech nominating another man, Senator Sherman. (Incidentally, Gen. Sherman really refused the nomination because he knew his brother wanted it very badly) . . . Grover Cleveland was practically an unknown at the convention which nominated him . . . William Jennings Bryan had trouble getting into the convention as a delegate, which ended by giving him the nomination after his "cross of gold" speech.

'Safe, Sane' July Fourth Requested

Mayor Urges City To Avoid Tragedy

A plea for a "safe and sane" Fourth of July was issued today by Mayor Roy W. Vaughn.

He said in the proclamation: 'I earnestly ask every citizen of our community to join with me in this safety endeavor by accepting personal responsibility for avoiding accidents over the holiday weekend celebration."

The use of fireworks is prohibited by state law, unless permission is obtained from the sheriff and fire chief. Illegal sale or use of fireworks carries a fine of $50 to $500.

The mayor's proclamation was issued at the request of the National Safety Council which is conducting a nation-wide Fourth of July accident prevention campaign.

"Let us remember," the proclamation continued, "that the Fourth of July celebrates our nation's hard-won freedom. To preserve it has been a costly endeavor through many struggles, so let us not add to the cost on human life by needless tragedy and suffering that result from holiday accidents.

Death Takes Mrs. Stearns

Mrs. Mildred Miller Stearns, 76, widow of John B. Stearns, 133 Western avenue, died at General hospital Sunday night, following a brief illness.

Born in Detroit, April 1, 1872, Mrs. Stearns had lived in this community for the past 35 years. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Harriet Stearns of Mansfield and one brother, James Miller of Kansas.

Friends may call at the Finefrock funeral home where services will be conducted Wednesday at 11 a. m., by Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh, associate pastor of the First Lutheran church. Cremation will follow.

Aged Man Dies At Son's Home

Frank Holloway, 86, died Sunday at the home of his son, Ezra Holloway, 139 Park avenue east, after a short illness.

Mr. Holloway was a retired lumberman.

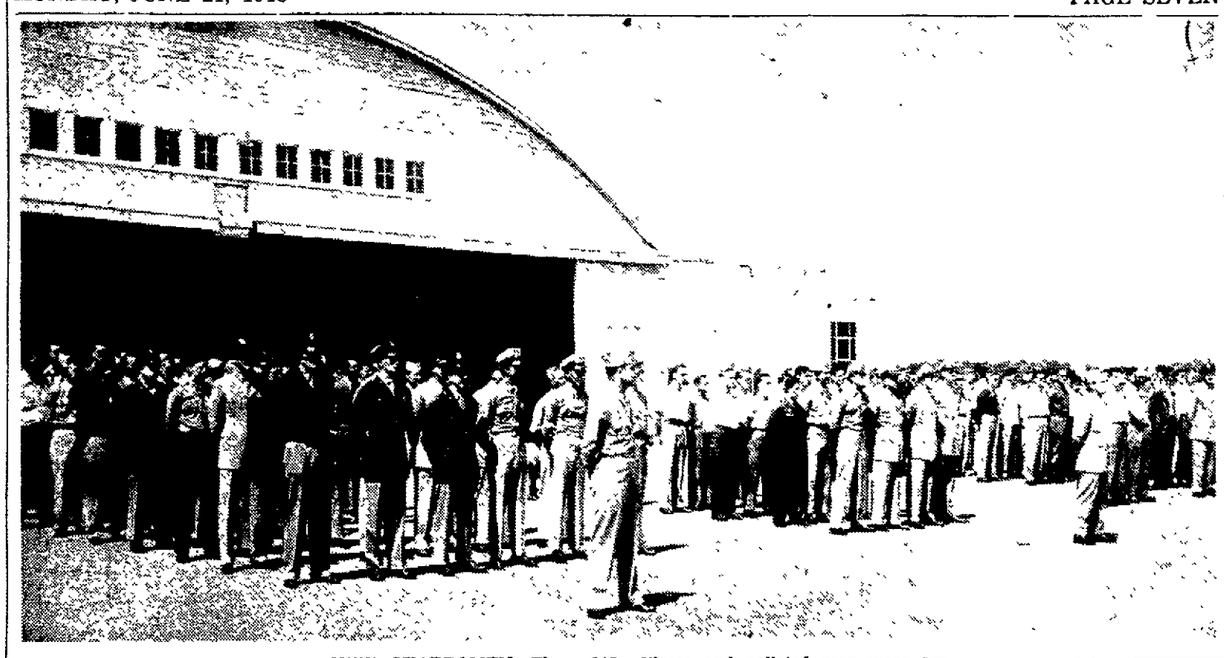
Surviving, besides his Mansfield son, are three other sons, Espy of Canada, Ray of Galion, and Silas; nine grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren.

Friends may call at the Snyder funeral home in Bel'ville, where services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in charge of Elder Hite of Marion. Burial will be in Shauck cemetery.

Rites Conducted For Hallabrin Child

Linda Lucille Hallabrin, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Hallabrin, 132 North Mulberry street, died at birth Sunday morning at General hospital.

Surviving, besides the parents, are grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bauer and Mrs. Christine Hallabrin, all of Mansfield. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery at 4 p. m. today. Arrangements are in charge of the Wappner funeral home.



NEW GUARDSMEN—These 145 officers and enlisted men were inducted into the newly formed 164th Air National Guard Fighter Squadron Sunday at activation ceremonies for the unit in front of Hangar No. 7 at the municipal airport. Below, Maj. Gen. C. W. Goble is shown addressing members of the new squadron from the speaker's platform prior to the induction ceremonies.

1,000 See Newest Defense Unit Formed

More than 1,000 Mansfielders saw the city's newest air defense unit activated yesterday at colorful ceremonies at the airport as an organization "to preserve peace and not to prepare for war."

While 34 planes roared a salute, 145 men and officers were inducted into the 164th Air National Guard Fighter squadron.

The unit was congratulated by Maj. Gen. C. W. Goble, Ohio adjutant general, and other state military leaders.

"We are not preparing for war; we are striving to prepare against it," said Brig. Gen. E. H. Zistel, commanding general of the 55th Air Wing. "The Pacific and Atlantic no longer are barriers for our enemies, and an adequate defense force is the chief defense against war."

The air salute was one of the best sky shows the city has seen. Thirty P-51's, two Navy F-4U's and two Navy PBM's soared over the speaker's platform during the ceremonies and flew in formation over Mansfield several times.

Against a Hollywood-type background, with an Army C-47 plane directly behind the speaker's platform, military leaders and members of the Mansfield Air Advisory committee joined Mayor Roy W. Vaughn in congratulating the new unit prior to the induction ceremony.

J. Gilbert Baird officiated at the activation ceremonies and introduced Brig. Gen. Zistel.

Gen. Zistel introduced Col. Lamont Saxton, senior State and Wing instructor, who administered the oath to the 145 officers and men.

BAND PLAYS CONCERT

The Ashland band presented a short concert of military marches before the induction ceremony.

Other military officials at the activation ceremonies included Maj. Gen. Leo H. Kreber, commanding general of the 37th division in Ohio; Brig. Gen. Kenneth C. Cooper, assistant adjutant general of Ohio; Lt. Col. Ernest Briscoe, chief of staff 55th Wing; Lt. Col. Michael J. Gordon, deputy commanding officer 4163rd, Cleveland; Lt. Col. Richard E. Critchfield, air instructor, 162nd Fighter Squadron, Dayton, and Maj. Robert Hall, training instructor of 321st Bomber Group (light).

Following the ceremonies the crowd and the officers and men of the 164th Fighter Squadron, attended a reception concluding the day's events before inspecting the aircraft surrounding the hangar on the field.

The reception luncheon was sponsored by the Mansfield businessmen and merchants who contributed to the purchase of the food and soft drinks.

FCC Survey Under Way

Hoover Commission Studies Operation

A survey of the Federal Communications commission's operations, which carries the possibility of proposing reorganization of the FCC, now is under way as part of the studies of the Herbert Hoover commission on reorganization of government, Broadcasting magazine reported today.

The magazine, leading trade journal of the radio broadcasting industry, reported that the Hoover commission's study of the FCC is being handled by William W. Golub, New York attorney. The magazine reported that Golub has been sitting in on FCC meetings and interviewing commission members, staff executives and personnel for several weeks.

Attorney Golub, it was reported, is working under the supervision of the Hoover commission's committee for the survey of independent regulatory commissions, which comprises Robert R. Bowie, Harvard law professor, chairman, and for Senator Robert LaFollette and Owen D. Young.

The Hoover commission's report is expected to be submitted to Congress about next Jan. 10. Spokesmen said that details of the various surveys will not be divulged until the new Congress convenes in order to avoid political implications in this fall's presidential compaign.

Mansfield Couple Injured In Crash

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Funk of 353 South Main street, were treated in City hospital, Bucyrus, Saturday night for injuries suffered when their car figured in a collision with one driven by Cloyd Mellott of Tiffin.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Route 262 and 103, northwest of Bucyrus, authorities said. Funk suffered a lacerated left ear and Mrs. Funk suffered a fractured rib. Mellott was treated for bruises. The Funk car turned over.

County Farm Women Plan Shelby Picnic

The annual picnic of the Richland County Farm Women's association will be held Thursday at Seltzer pary, Shelby. Dinner will be served at noon. It is expected that 125 members and their families will be present. Games, contests and music will follow the dinner.

One Smokes, One Doesn't; Both Are 103

COLUMBUS — (AP) — John Grate and John R. Bennett, Ohio's only surviving Civil War veterans, disagreed today on whether smoking keeps a man from reaching a ripe old age.

Grate, who is 103, figured it did.

Bennett, also 103, lit up a big black cigar and observed: "Smoking a cigar doesn't hurt a fellow. I find it right relaxing."

Grate, from Atwater, and Bennett, from Waynesfield, arrived last night for the 82nd annual state GAR encampment. Both were alert and cheerful, although Bennett retired early.

Grate led memorial services for deceased comrades last night.

Tomorrow he and Bennett will get together to nominate and elect officers, and select the 1949 convention city.

The annual encampment closes Thursday. While the old campaigners will be the central figures, major activity centers around the annual meeting of six GAR affiliates — the Women's Relief corps, Ladies of the Grand Army, Daughters of Union Veterans, Sons of Union Veterans, Auxiliary to Sons of Union Veterans and Allied Orders of the GAR.

Up and Down the Street . . .

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Friends were extending Dr. Karl Langacher birthday congratulations today prior to a quiet celebration at home tonight with the immediate members of his family.

Dr. Langacher is originally from Alliance where he attended Mt. Union college before coming to Mansfield in 1939 to start his practice. He served in the Army for four years with 26 months overseas duty in Burma and India. He returned to Mansfield to resume his practice in 1946.

A member of the Mansfield Rotary, University and Westbrook country clubs and the Richland County Medical association, his spare moments are spent on the golf course where he enjoys his favorite hobby.

Married and father of two daughters, he lives at 42 Chevy Chase road.

CAUGHT IN RUSH—

Marshall Heinbaugh, baritone artist who sings tonight with the Mastersingers, barely got his train out of Philadelphia Saturday night, because of the surge of Republican convention delegates. "I called for a taxi," he related, "but was told there was none to be had. So I went downtown and stood on the street corner. Finally, one came along and I just had time to get my train." The city was already pretty crowded Saturday night and excitement was running high, Heinbaugh said.

Seek To Escape Draft

Men, 19-25, Jam Recruit Offices

WASHINGTON — (UP) — National guard recruiting offices throughout the country got set today for rush business for men eager to take advantage of the "escape hatch" in the new draft machinery.

The 19-through-25 draft bill passed by Congress exempts those who join the guard or other active reserve outfits before President Truman signs the measure into law. The President has 10 days in which to act.

Though normally closed on Sunday, National Guard headquarters in Washington, St. Louis, Boston and elsewhere opened their doors yesterday in response to hundreds of inquiries. Many would-be draftees signed up for stay-at-home duty. Others indicated they would enroll today.

STAFFS ENLARGED

Recruiting officers looked for record turnouts within the next few days when the draft exemption feature becomes known. In San Francisco and other cities, recruiting staffs were enlarged to handle the expected rush.

Meanwhile, army officials estimated that between 200,000 and 230,000 men would be inducted during the first year of the draft. The exact number, they said, will depend to a great extent on the number of volunteers.

By volunteering for one year's service, 18-year-olds could avoid being drafted later on.

21-MONTHS' SERVICE

As finally approved by congress on Saturday, the selective service bill would make men in the 19-through-25 age group eligible for 21 months' service. The first draftees could be called up three months after the President signs the bill.

World War II veterans with at least 90 days' service between Pearl Harbor and V-J day would be exempt. So would those who put in a 12-month hitch between Sept. 16, 1940 and the day the bill becomes law.

The President has authority to defer men with dependents, as well as "necessary" men in agriculture, industry, government and research, and scientific and medical students.

Also exempt are regularly ordained ministers and those studying for the ministry, and conscientious objectors who are opposed to all types of service, even non-combat duty.

Local Units Set For Recruit Rush

Company F 145th Infantry division and the 164th Air National Guard Fighter Squadron were preparing today for the expected rush of men, eligible for the new draft, who will be seeking exemption through enlistment in the guard and other reserve service organizations before the president signs the draft bill.

Capt. Charles A. Boughton, commanding officer of Co. F, said enlistments will be taken at the U. S. Armory on Ashland road. Applications for enlistment in the Air National guard will be taken at Hangar No. 7, Municipal airport.

County Awards Gravel Contract

A contract for supplying and applying 2,300 tons of gravel on the Koogle-Harlan road was awarded by the county commissioners Saturday to T. E. Straits of Mifflin township.

His bid of $3,105 was the lower of two received. The Bellville Sand and Gravel company submitted the other bid, $3,237.

The work calls for putting the gravel on the road from State Route 503 to U S Route 30, a distance of three and one-half miles.

Suspect Arrested In Bellville Robbery

A 36-year-old Mt. Vernon man was held in county jail today in connection with the robbery of Mrs. Ida Myers in her Bellville home Saturday.

Mrs. Myers told sheriff's deputies she was accosted by two men who leaped from behind a bedroom door in her home. She said they escaped with her purse through a back door.

One Word—'Prosperous'—Describes GOP Convention

By LOUIS BROMFIELD
(Copyright, 1948)

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—If one word could be used to describe the appearance of Philadelphia on the eve of the greatest show on earth, it would be the word "prosperous."

One expects Republicans to look prosperous, but never have they appeared more so.

Philadelphia has the reputation of being a sleepy city but the description wouldn't apply today with every train bringing in delegates, candidates and lookers-on from Bangor, Me., to Leaping Rock, Nev., and Spruce Tree, Ore., to Squeegee Swamp, Fla.

You can hear any variety of accent you like best. You can see Texas hats, and I saw one cowhand in full regalia.

Probably there has never been a convention in history with so big an attendance.

People are living in everything from the candidate's royal suite to the linen cupboards of the hotels. Practically every hotel and boarding house shelters a favorite son or a dark horse.

The fighting and the political bargaining haven't yet begun and up to date everybody is happy and reasonably glad to see everybody else.

Even Stassen and Dewey supporters are to be seen shaking hands with each other.

There is a feeling that the man who is nominated here is pretty sure to be the next President and that adds to the exuberance and to the intensity of the struggle for the prize.

Gleeson Leads AA Hit Parade

CHICAGO —(AP)— Jimmy Gleeson of Milwaukee slammed his way to the top of the American association's individual batting standing this week with a .390 average.

Following in order are Joe Muffoletto, Kansas City, .373; Mel Hicks, St. Paul, .354; Earl Turner, Indianapolis, .351, and Al Rosen, Kansas City, .350.

St. Paul's Eric Tipton's .342 average includes league-high totals of 143 total bases and 14 home runs. Les Fleming of Indianapolis retained his runs-batted-in leadership with 67 while his teammate, Ted Bearr, ended the week with 65 total runs.

The league's best pitching record, 12 wins against one loss, was retained by Jim Bagby of Indianapolis.

Baseball Fans Can Hear Tris

Mansfield baseball fans will have an opportunity to hear one of the all-time greats of baseball—Tris Speaker—tomorrow.

The First Presbyterian Men's club is bringing Speaker to Mansfield for its annual father and son banquet. The banquet will begin at 6:15 p. m. Following the fete, Speaker will speak in the church auditorium at 8 p. m. and the public has been invited to the talk.

Speaker managed the Cleveland Indians when they won their only pennant in 1920 and now serves as a coach and good-will ambassador of the Tribe.

Sharp, Vicious Brown Bomber Awaits Jersey Joe Walcott

NEW YORK —(AP)— Looking sharper and more vicious than he has been for some time, Joe Louis was almost ready today to make his next and perhaps final bid for fistic immortality.

Only a few finishing touches remained for the brown bomber before he steps into the Yankee stadium ring Wednesday night for his 15-round return title bout with Jersey Joe Walcott.

After weeks of listless performances, the champion appears to have finally come into his own. In his last few workouts, the champ has shown some of the power punching that carried him to the heavyweight throne.

Saturday the bomber was snapping out his left jab one of his most potent weapons in the long ago, with plenty of the old power. He was hooking well to the body and crossing his right with plenty of zip. His concentration on body punching seemed to indicate his plan of action for the big fight.

Those who saw him work went sky high on the champ to repeat easily. Sunday Louis didn't look too hot. A crowd of about 5,000 watched the bomber, but he obviously was not putting on any show, being content to practice with his left.

Louis is dead set on whipping Walcott. He has built up a cold anger against the veteran who carried him the full 15 rounds last Dec. 5 and almost scored an upset. For Louis, who won the crown from Jimmie Braddock almost 11 years ago, this 25th title defense is the last big obstacle.

The bookmakers figure the bomber will make it. He's a 5-to-13 favorite to win and a 5-to-6 choice to flatten Walcott.

Bob Lemon, Bob Feller Win Games

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Despite the fact that many people still maintain that Bob Feller is "all washed up," there are 82,781 fans that don't agree.

This was evident yesterday as the record throng watched the again-Rapid Robert win his first game since May 19.

Feller had lost five straight before he tossed a seven-hitter at the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday to cop the first game of a doubleheader, 4-3.

The Tribe's other Bob—Bob Lemon—made it a perfect afternoon of baseball for the fans, who set a new major league attendance record, by pitching the Redskins to a 10-0 victory in the nightcap. It was Lemon's 10th win against five losses.

PECK GETS HIT

Sharing the limelight with Feller was Hal Peck, who came in as a pinch-hitter for Jim Hegan in the seventh with the bases loaded and drove a sharp single to right field, clearing the bases.

Before Peck came to bat in the seventh, the A's were leading by three runs, two of which were the result of home runs by Eddie Joost and Sam Chapman.

Peck drove in Hank Edwards and Joe Gordon with his timely single, and Keltner, who was on first, scored when Shortstop Joost let Ray Coleman's throw get by him.

Actually the hit that meant the ball game was delivered by Larry Doby. It was a single to right field that scored Peck with what proved to be the winning run.

The Tribe got off to a flying start in the second game with two runs in the first inning, one in the second, and four in the third.

FIRST TO WIN 10

Lemon, who pitched one of his best games yesterday, became the first American league pitcher to win 10 games and leads the league in strikeouts with 65.

The ex-infielder, whose wildness cost the Indians a ball game Friday, walked only two batters and struck out 10.

Lemon held the A's hitless until two were out in the sixth when Ray Coleman dribbled a grounder past Robinson. The only other two hits off Lemon came in the ninth after two were out.

Again displaying that he's a hitter as well as a pitcher, Lemon smashed a home run in his first trip to the plate and led off in the eighth with a double.

Edwards, Peck, Gordon and Robinson also collected two each in the 15-hit barrage.

Kramer Wins Pro Net Title

FOREST HILLS, N. Y.—(AP)—It took four sets for Jack Kramer to wrest the national professional tennis championship away from Bobby Riggs yesterday, but only one of them really counted.

It was the first one, which Kramer won, 14-12. That finished Riggs, even though the cocky little defending titleholder came back to win the third before Kramer roared on to his 14-12, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, triumph.

Jack topped off the victory by teaming with Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Ecuador to dethrone Riggs and Don Budge in the doubles finale, 4-6, 5-7, 6-2, 7-5, 8-6.

Gorman-Rupp In Critical League Test Here Tonight

Mansfield Gorman-Rupp's league-leading softball team will attempt to prove tonight that it can make a runaway of the North Central Ohio Inter-City softball league.

The Mansfielders will attempt to solve the slants of Bobby Smith, Willard's 19-year-old pitching sensation who appears to be the classiest hurler in the league.

With only an average team behind him, Smith pitched Willard into a tie for second place with a nine-inning shutout of Ashland last week.

On June 10, he and Gorman-Rupp's Bobby Regula battled 16 innings to a 1-1 draw. In racking up its five straight victories, Gorman-Rupp has beaten every other league team except Willard.

Gorman-Rupp lost a 6-3 decision to the Sandusky Italian-Americans at Sandusky Saturday night.

North Lakers Take Lead In Park League

North Lake took over the leadership of the Park softball league yesterday by defeating Johns 11-7 at Liberty park. It was North Lake's third straight victory and Johns park's first defeat in four starts.

The Gorman-Rupp Juniors were credited with their first victory of the season by forfeit when only eight players appeared for Prospect park. Yesterday's games had been postponed from earlier in the season.

In regular play today, North Lake will be at Prospect park and Johns park will face the Gorman-Rupp Juniors at Gorman-Rupp field. Both games start at 6 p. m.

Chiaverini Takes Publinx Title For 3rd Time In Row

TOLEDO —(AP)— The Sylvanus P. Germain trophy, emblematic of the Ohio Public Links golf championship, is still on the shelf back of the bar at Sunningdale Golf club where it has reposed since 1942.

Val Chiaverini, stocky, sunbronzed 34-year-old inspector at the Champion Spark Plug Co., put the cup there in 1942 when he won the annual pay-as-you-go classic. The war washed away the next four tournaments, but sharp-shooting Val won the revival in 1947.

In the 18-hole finals, Chiaverini played 15 holes in three under par to oust 25-year-old Bob Geisler, a bricklayer and three-year navy veteran, by a 4 and 3 score. He closed out the match with a 36-foot curling putt for a birdie three, his fifth under-par hole of the round.

Taverns Play Ideal Quartet

Front-running Blue Goose Tavern will face Ideal Billards in the feature match of the News Journal A golf league Tuesday evening at Possum Run.

Blue Goose, with 16 points, holds a commanding lead over the field while Ideal is in a five-way tie for third place.

PD's Bar, standing in second place with 13 points, will meet last place Smokehouse, a team which has some good golfers but has run into some bad luck. Al Hager, the league's best scorer, is the No. 1 man for the cellar-dwellers.

In other matches, Penn Auto and Sporting Goods meets Orr Typewriters and Myers Supply faces Flexible Conveyor. All four teams are tied with Ideal with 11 points.

Cleveland Fans Set New Crowd Mark; New York Yankees Take Second Place

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Bill Veeck, major league baseball's No. 1 showman, is a very happy guy today, thanks to Cleveland's rabid baseball fans.

Cleveland fans set a major league attendance record yesterday to fulfill one of Veeck's pet ambitions.

A total of 82,781 paid to see the American league's front-running Indians take a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday. The crowd topped the previous high of 81,841 set May 30, 1938, for a twin bill in New York between Boston and the New York Yankees.

BIG CELEBRATION

Wednesday night the Indians will have a program celebrating the second anniversary of Veeck's purchase of the club and outside of a victory over the Yanks, Veeck would like nothing better than to set another new attendance mark.

For a while it appeared the Indians would disappoint the big crowd. The Athletics jumped on Bobby Feller for a 3-0 lead but the Indians staged a four-run seventh inning rally and went on to score a 4-3 triumph. The Indians breezed home in the nightcap, 10-0, behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Lemon, who became the first major league pitcher to win 10 games this year.

The defeats dropped the A's from second to third place as the New York Yankees became runners-up by taking a twin bill from the Browns in St. Louis, 4-2 and 6-2.

Joe Di Maggio clouted three homers. One in the first game and two in the second, to spearhead the Yankee drive.

Boston's fast climbing Red Sox trounced the Tigers, 8-3, in a single game at Detroit to move over the Tigers into fourth place.

At Chicago, the Washington Senators divided a doubleheader with the White Sox. The Sox won the opener, 8-5, and the Senators the nightcap, 4-1, to end an eight game losing streak.

The National league's pace-setting Boston Braves also swept a doubleheader, beating the Cincinnati Reds, 5-4 and 4-1, in Boston. The victories boosted Boston's margin to a game and a half over the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates, who split a pair with the Phillies in Philadelphia.

The Pirates, after Dutch Leonard beat them, 9-0, on four hits, collected 11 to win the second tilt, 7-5. Ralph Kiner clouted his 18th and 19th homers of the year to feature the Pirate attack.

Manager Eddie Dyer's St. Louis Cardinals remained two games back of the Pirates. The Red Birds split with the Giants at New York, winning the first game, 7-2, but dropping the finale, 6-4.

In a single game at Brooklyn the Chicago Cubs downed the Dodgers, 6-4, with Andy Pafko and Bob Scheffing collecting three safeties apiece to lead the Cub assault against three Dodger hurlers.

Gregorio Fans 19, Allows Three Hits In 20-to-0 Win

SHELBY—Lou Gregorio coasted to his first victory here yesterday as the Mansfield American Legion Juniors walloped the Shelby Juniors, 20-0. It was their third victory without defeat.

Manager Dewey Durant's Mansfield team scored thirteen times in the wild fourth inning to put the game on ice. Shorstop Sparkie Watts set a fast pace for his mates as he rapped out two singles, a double, and a triple in five times at bat. Buck McKeever and Dutch Bader got three hits apiece, one of McKeever's being a home run.

Gregorio, meanwhile, was having an easy time of it as he allowed but three hits and set 19 Shelby batters down on strikes. He walked but one man. Ten of the last 11 batters looked at the third strike while the other walked on a 3-2 pitch.

Don Hardy Wins First For Grays

Don Hardy, ex-American Legion and minor league hurler, put on a one-man show at Blue Goose park yesterday.

Making his first start for the Mansfield Grays, Hardy struck out 21 Galion batters for a two-hit shutout and a 12-0 victory. He walked but two batters and banged out a single and triple himself.

Hardy returned only last week from Janesville where he spent last year and this spring in the Class D Wisconsin State league.

BIG RAMPAGE

Evidently sparked by Hardy's brilliant efforts, the Grays went on their biggest scoring rampage of the season. Shortstop Kenny Funk paced the attack with three hits while the new outfielder, Jim Guest, got a home run in his first game.

The Grays tallied seven times in the fifth inning on doubles by Joe Miller and Red Hamman, singles by Hardy, Foster Burgraff and Funk, a walk to Dean Hahn and two errors.

The Grays will meet at McCarrick's Service station at 4:45 p. m. Wednesday to go to Shelby for a game with the Shelby Blues. Saturday the Grays are to play at the Ohio State Reformatory. Akron Goodyear comes here for a doubleheader next Sunday.

Ex-Gridders Attend Fete At Oak Park

By DICK SCHWAB

Approximately 30 persons yesterday attended the 40th anniversary reunion of Mansfield high school's 1908 football team at Oak park.

The group included players, wives and fans of the early day grid terrors. The '08 football team lost its opening game and then did not lose another tilt during the remainder of the campaign. Mansfield sponsors had hoped for a turnout of 50 persons, but several out-of-town players were unable to make the fete.

Several early year books made their appearance as the old-time footballers talked about the days of yore and how much better football was 40 years ago. However, none of the men brought out a ball or suggested a scrimmage session.

SECOND REUNION

It was the second reunion staged by the '08 team, which plans to make the event an annual affair. The first session was held in 1941. Earl "Pooch" Pollock was elected president of the team with Jim Carrigan going in as secretary-treasurer.

Bill Black presided over yesterday's business meeting.

In addition to Pollock, Carrigan and Black, the following players were at the reunion: Robert Shireman, Massilon; Pete Runyan, Lakewood; Dio Shaw, Cleveland; Walter Oswalt, Tom Scott, Roger Au, Ed Longsdorf and Albert Schad.

E. L. Marting, coach of the team and now an Akron business man, had to call off his appearance at the last minute.

Mrs. Carrigan, Mrs. Au, Mrs. Pollock and Mrs. Scott were in charge of refreshments.

Champ 'Con' Man Writes Life Story

Claims Victims Were Dishonest

By HAL DOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Joseph ("Yellow Kid") Weil was a poor but dishonest boy from Chicago who grew up to fleece the American public of $8,000,000.

He began by peddling a phoney tapeworm cure at a buck a bottle and reached his peak by bilking an Omaha banker out of $350,000 in a fake stock deal.

Unrepentant at 70 but now reformed, this master American confidence man for fifty years has just written an autobiography which will make sour reading for scores of his victims.

For the "Yellow Kid," who posed variously as a mining engineer, famous author and wealthy broker, believes he is basically more honest than the people he swindled.

"You can't cheat an honest man," he says. "Every man who was ever swindled had larceny in his heart.

"All the people I swindled had something in common—greed, the desire to acquire money."

He says that in most cases his victims were rooked while they were eagerly trying to share in an enterprise which was illegal on the face.

In this way he made suckers out of wealthy men and women anxious to get something for nothing out of supposedly fixed horse races, rigged gambling games, and oil lands, stock issues, and copper mines which they supposedly could buy at bargain prices from unsuspecting owners.

TELLS OF SWINDLES

Weil relates with some evidence of delight the times he swindled bankers, whose morality in the boom twenties he holds in little esteem. Bankers seem to have been natural fall guys for his "get-rich-easy" bait.

With glib assurance he showed one Indianapolis banker a small machine that apparently could reproduce paper money. The banker, the "Yellow Kid" says, promptly suggested that they duplicate a hundred $1,000 bills from his own bank, although obviously this would be counterfeiting. Weil got $67,000 from him and left the banker in a hotel room trying to take out new bills from the fake machine

What is the weakness of con men?

Weil, who used to throw $1,000 a night parties, says it is high-living and pretty women. He believes a number of jail terms he served did less to cause his downfall than his attempts to go straight.

"There is a widespread notion that a clever swindler could be a great success if he turned his talents to legitimate channels," he says, "but nothing is further from the truth, for when a con man invests his money in a legitimate business he loses it."

He speaks from his own experience. He dropped $750,000 trying to operate a hotel and $375,000 on a short-term lease of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus.

STILL CYNICAL

At three-score-and-ten the "Yellow Kid's" cynicism anent human nature can be measured by his mellow statement that he knows of meeting only one 100 per cent honest man in his life The man offered to lend him money.

His solution to cut down swindling schemes: Pass a law making the victim as well as the con man subject to imprisonment if he knowingly is a party to a conspiracy to obtain money illegally. And he insists that in most swindles the victims have larceny in their hearts.

Aging now but debonair as ever, the "Yellow Kid," once known to the police of two continents, earns a modest living doing telephone soliciting for charitable organizations.

"Needless to say," he adds carefully, "I do not handle any of the funds. I am paid a percentage."

The $8,000,000? gone—all gone.

Two Weeks of Instruction Provided At Girl Scout Camp

Volunteer camp counselors will instruct Girl Scouts in outdoor activities at Camp Niniwan during the next two weeks. Sessions at the day camp will be from 8.30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Tuesday through Friday. The first session will open Tuesday.

Miss Marjorie Boals will be in charge of archery which will be taught each afternoon. New archery equipment has been purchased.

Mrs. J. Frederick Castor will teach basketry in the morning and photography both morning and afternoon.

Instruction in leather craft will be given by Mrs. J. H. Kohler, assisted by Mrs. James P. Keith. Mrs. Keith will also have charge of finger painting, spatter painting, and printing.

Mrs. E. G. Pankow, assistant director of the camp, will be the camp's nature consultant.

All of the counselors have been given special training by Miss Margaret Rooney, executive Scout director, assisted by Mrs. Keith and Mrs. Pankow.

A graduate nurse, Mrs. Harold George, will be in attendance at the camp at all times.

The chief emphasis at the camp will be on living outdoors and learning to enjoy the outdoors, Miss Rooney said. She pointed out that camping is one of the biggest projects of Girl Scout work.

Romney Jail Term Begins

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Kenneth Romney, 61, former House sergeant - at - arms, began serving Saturday a one to three-year jail sentence.

Romney was convicted in May, 1947, on charges of falsifying government accounts and concealing shortages of more than $120,000 in funds of the House bank.

Federal District Judge Alexander Holtzoff, who committed Romney Friday, said he would recommend that he be sent to the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa.

Hail Breaks 1,000 Panes

STOYESTOWN, Pa. —(AP)— Hailstones which residents claimed were as large as snowballs pelted this northwest Pennsylvania community Saturday, causing widespread damage.

More than 1,000 windows were reported smashed in houses, greeneries and buildings in the little communities of Hooversville, Friedens and Stoyestown.

The shattered windows looked as though they had been hit by baseballs.

In 35 years, the Rockefeller Foundation has spent more than $400,000,000 in virtually every country of the world.

FIRE DAMAGES SHED

An oil stove at 276 North Franklin street caused a fire Saturday at 8:41 p. m. which damaged two rooms in a shed at the rear of the building. Firemen said the building was owned by the Muskingum Valley Conservancy district. Stations one and two answered the call.

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Write for reference and booklet "What Your Neighbors Say." Satisfied patients in over 200 cities, towns and villages.

Lucas Couple Exchange Vows June 12 In Lutheran Church

LUCAS — Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brady, Route 1, Lucas, announce the marriage of their daughter, Katherine Jane, to Wayne Roger Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin, Route 1, Lucas.

The double ring ceremony was performed June 12 at 3:30 p. m. in the First English Lutheran church by Rev. Carvath Mitchell.

The bride wore a blue taffeta dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Alice Marie Brady was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a pale pink georgette dress with white accessories. She wore a corsage of white roses.

Best man for his brother was Doyle D. Berry.

The bride's mother wore a black and white print dress with matching accessories and a corsage of red carnations. The bridegroom's mother was dressed like the bride's mother.

A reception for the families was held at the home of the bride's parents following which the couple left on a honeymoon to Canada and Niagara Falls. The bride wore a brown gabardine suit with white accessories.

Mrs. Berry is employed as a secretary in the Farmer's Saving and Trust company and her husband works for Mansfield Tire and Rubber.

The couple will be at home to friends at 120½ Distl avenue.

Horoscope

For Tuesday, June 22.

THE energies and faculties are under excellent stimuli for creating and putting over large and important projects or objectives. This will occur in such a dynamic manner as to attract cooperation from influential sources disposed to push with capital and initiative in worthwhile propositions. While strenuous and aggressive tactics may give sturdy impetus to creative urges, yet misplaced confidence, curious entanglements or sinister intrigue may undermine most ambitious endeavors. Keep alert to all such subtlety and treachery.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is, may stand at the brink of a most productive and constructive opening for large enterprise, with talents, energies and spirit of initiative keyed to high performance. This will be evident to such degree as to win the practical support and financial backing of those in high places. But an element of trickery, fraud, bribery, or strange propositions may result in loss, distortion, or intrigue, finally reaching the public ear.

A child born on this day is energetic, aggressive and zealous for important endeavors, but may be easily victimized by putting trust in treacherous, queer or designing personages.

Nuptial Date Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Brown jr. are residing at 643 Clifton boulevard since their marriage on June 12 at Maysville, Kentucky in the Trinity Methodist church parsonage. The Rev. Perkins officiated for the ceremony.

Mrs. Brown is the former Marian Allenbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Allenbaugh, Wadsworth, Ohio, formerly of Mansfield. Mr. Brown is the son of Edward H. Brown sr. 643 Clifton boulevard.

The bride wore a light blue suit with navy accessories for her marriage. Mrs. Jacob Kiehl, jr. wore a green print dress when she served as matron of honor for the bride.

Jacob Kiehl acted as best man for the ceremony.

The bride and groom left for a short wedding trip to Columbus following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were both students at Mt. Vernon Academy.

Announce Marriage

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Charlotte Le Del Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Ralph D. Lumpkins of this city. Nuptial vows were exchanged in a quiet service June 17 at 9:30 p.m. at the parsonage of Rev. R. Robinson. The recent bride is nationally known as a lyric soprano and plans to continue her concert work and private tutoring. Mr. Lumpkins is a grocery merchant. They are now at home at 819 Bowman street.

PICNIC HELD

The St. Paul Thursday Niters held their June meeting at the home of Fred Miller, sr., near Ontario. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Miles Davison were in charge of the picnic and entertainment for the evening. There were thirty-five members and seven children in attendance. The evening was spent socially with games enjoyed by the entire group. The committee for July will be Mr. and Mrs. Julius Soka and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Loesch. The next meeting will be on July 15.

MEET TONIGHT

The Hospital Guild, Women of the Moose, will have a covered dish dinner tonight at 6:30 p. m. at North Lake park. Dessert will be furnished by the committee, Mrs. Helen Walker and Mrs. Charles Prosser.

Young Mansfield Businessman

Wants to Be Veterinarian

Robert "Bob" Miller, 14-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Miller, 295 Myers avenue, is another News-Journal carrier who is saving money from his newspaper route with the hope that it will help him to a college education. Bob would like to become a veterinarian. He's not quite clear why that profession appeals to him, but that's his objective and from his newspaper job he has accumulated $300 toward his first year's college expenses.

Miller

He delivers papers to subscribers on Fifth and Sixth avenues and part of Ashland road, dropping off 140 News-Journals each evening. His profit totals around $10 to $13 a week, and from that he has laid by his college nest egg in two years.

"Bob" will be a tenth grader in Mansfield Senior high come September. He says he likes his paper rout and the people with whom he does business. His principal complaint about his business experience so far is the number of times that he has lost money on subscribers who move from his route without remembering to settle up their bills.

Otherwise, he says, the business of newspaper distributing is "O.K."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3 The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

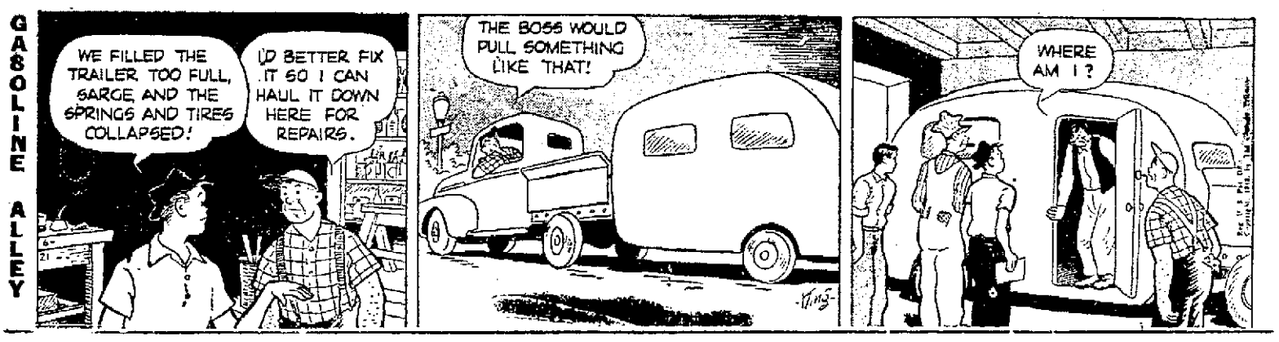
M'SIEU CHARLES! THIS THING YOU STUMBLE OVER! IT IS M'SIEU BRONZ'S MOS' PRIZED ANTIQUE — NO?
NOT QUITE — IT'S VAN GOBLING'S PHONY COPY... HE MUST'VE HAD IT STASHED IN HIS MATTRESS — AND IT ROLLED ONTO THE FLOOR WHEN HE WAS SNATCHED.
BAH! IS WORTHLESS, NO? DROP IT AND LET US GO. BRONZ AND THE SERVANT ARE GONE TO ROUSE THE HOUSEHOLD.
I'M COMING — BUT I THINK I'LL HANG ON TO LITTLE SOURPUSS ...MIGHT NEED A PAPER WEIGHT IN A HURRY, SOMETIME.
Y' UNDERSTAND? I FOUND THIS DOLT UNCONSCIOUS AND CHARLES GONE. HE MIGHT MAKE AN ATTEMPT TO FREE HIS FRIEND, LEE, AND THE OTHERS. WE WILL TAKE SUITABLE PRECAUTIONS.

GASOLINE ALLEY

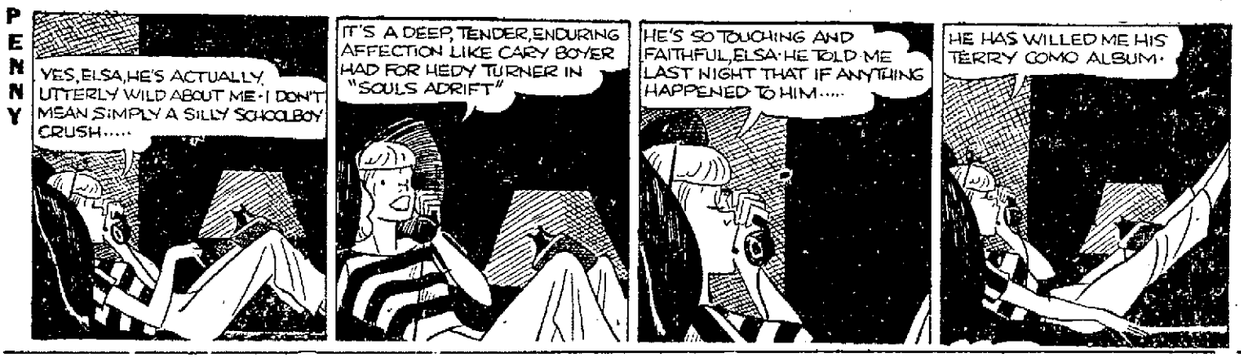


WE FILLED THE TRAILER TOO FULL, SARGE, AND THE SPRINGS AND TIRES COLLAPSED!
I'D BETTER FIX IT SO I CAN HAUL IT DOWN HERE FOR REPAIRS.
THE BOSS WOULD PULL SOMETHING LIKE THAT!
WHERE AM I?

RIP KIRBY

RIP, YOU DARLING! WHATEVER ARE YOU DOING IN LONDON?
HONEY! YOU'RE LOVELIER THAN EVER!
THE LUCKY DOG! WONDER WHO HE IS!
I DON'T KNOW... BUT SHE'S IN CHARGE OF THOSE AMERICAN MODELS... AND SHE'S THE PRETTIEST OF THE LOT!
OH, RIP, I'VE MISSED YOU SO!
IT'S MUTUAL... NOW I WANT TO HEAR ALL ABOUT YOU... LET'S HAVE A SPOT OF TEA...

PENNY



YES, ELSA, HE'S ACTUALLY, UTTERLY WILD ABOUT ME - I DON'T MEAN SIMPLY A SILLY SCHOOLBOY CRUSH.....
IT'S A DEEP, TENDER, ENDURING AFFECTION LIKE CARY BOYER HAD FOR HEDY TURNER IN "SOULS ADRIFT"
HE'S SO TOUCHING AND FAITHFUL, ELSA - HE TOLD ME LAST NIGHT THAT IF ANYTHING HAPPENED TO HIM.....
HE HAS WILLED ME HIS TERRY COMO ALBUM.

Dems Say 'Don't Count Truman Out'

Reporters on Long Trip Say So Too

Executive Makes Hit With Public

By DOUGLAS CORNELL

WASHINGTON — Democrats, watching from Washington as the Republicans started in Philadelphia today the job of selecting a presidential candidate, confidently asserted "Don't count Truman out yet."

And they were joined by most of the more than 60 reporters just returning from an 8 500-mile trip with the President that started June 3 The reporters had spent most of their time on the trip analyzing Mr. Average American's reactions to their President

And with few exceptions they brought back the idea that the President can't be counted out yet.

For President Truman s western stumping tour has raised question-marks over Republican claims that 1948 is "their year '

REAL FIGHT PROMISED

Mr. Truman is taking it for granted that the Democratic nomination is his And once he gets it, the Republicans can be sure they are going to have a real fight for the presidency

The President let the people know on his 18-state 70-speech trip that he is thoroughly steamed up about some of the things that are said about him and about the way Congress has treated his program.

So he has promised to put both himself and the record of Congress on display 'from one end of the country to the other '

Right from the start the chief executive began a process of what he called 'pouring it on Congress about issue after issue but mostly about high prices and housing

GOP SNAPS BACK

While Republican leaders were snapping back at him from the halls of Congress there was nothing to indicate that the people to whom the President spoke were greatly offended by his cracks at the lawmakers More often than not his remarks drew applause

And Mr Truman showed an ability to get along with the ordinary people who gathered in cities and villages along his route. He kept them laughing with banter and wisecracks. They applauded his punches at Congress He didn't kiss any babies, but he held a few in his arms

He even got out of bed a couple of times and chatted in pajamas and bath robe with station crowds And things like that weren t calculated to hurt his chances with the voters

SOME BLUNDERS

Yet there were blunders on the trip. There was evidence of poor advance planning at spots and poor briefing elsewhere Some Democratic leaders in some states were none too happy about arrangements Errors like that can hurt any candidate

Throughout the trip Mr Truman let it be known that he does not like some of the things some people say about his being a nice person but not big enough for his job

With anger and sarcasm in his voice, he told a crowd at Butte, Mont that he was "out here to tell you the truth" He said people are saying the country has a President who "doesn t know what goes on and doesn't know how to run the government"

But he said it seems to him things have been getting along pretty well for the last three years He said folks have money in their pockets business is better than ever and money is safe in the banks

At Tacoma Wash later on Mr Truman complained

'I don t think there is a President in the history of the United States who has been as thoroughly misrepresented as I ve been"

Time after time he told his audiences he was out West to give them a chance to look him over and see whether they believe some of the things said about him are true He said he was willing to leave the verdict with them in November and he spoke of the results with confidence

Truckers Consider 'Roadeo' For City's Safe Drivers

First it was "cowboys at rodeos" and now it appears that there will be truckboys at Roadeos" in the near future

The Mansfield Motor Truck association, headed by Thomas M Dorsey, terminal manager of the Norwalk Truck line, is studying the possibility of holding a contest open to all Mansfield truck drivers who have at least one year of accident-free truck driving

"The association is checking the possibilities of a Mansfield 'Roadeo" its requirements and the interest in the project by local drivers" Harold Williams assistant manager of the Mansfield Motor Truck association said

The first Ohio Roadeo will be held at the Ohio State fairgrounds Columbus Sept 9 and 10 Champion drivers in three classes will be chosen Williams said Classes have been set up for straight truck tractor and semi trailer and truck and full trailer

If a local roadeo can be arranged the winner will be sent to the state show to compete with drivers from all over Ohio he said

All drivers who successfully maneuver their vehicles through the obstacle course and who complete the safety examinations will receive several awards and honors Winners will represent Ohio at the National Truck Roadeo to be held in October at Washington D C, during the American Trucking associations annual convention

Congress Piles Truman's Desk High With Bills

President Expected To OK Most

Congress Invites Call Back to Job

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman's desk was piled high today with bills passed during a marathon wind-up session by the Congress he called the "second worst" on record. He was expected to approve most of the major last-minute bills.

Congressional leaders rang down the curtain at 7:14 a. m. yesterday. But they left the way open so they could call Congress back to the job, and Speaker Joseph W. Martin jr. said there was a good chance they would do so. The adjournment resolution was phrased so that either the GOP leaders or Mr. Truman can recall the legislators.

Some members of both parties felt that the failure to pass a comprehensive long-range housing bill was the major argument for a back-to-Washington move before next January. The Republican presidential candidate chosen this week in Philadelphia may have a lot to say about an "overtime" session.

44-HOUR SESSION

To clear the legislative docket in time for the Republican national convention, both houses stayed at work through Saturday night.

The Senate was in continuous session for 44 hours and 14 minutes—its longest stretch since 1915 and the second longest in its history.

Major bills passed and sent to the White House during the waning hours of the 80th Congress included:

Peacetime Draft: Under which inductions of men 19 through 25—for 21 months' service—will begin in about 90 days if President Truman proclaims that voluntary enlistments have failed to supply the necessary military manpower. The President is almost certain to do so.

VANDENBERG VICTORY

Foreign Aid Spending: Totaling $6,030,710,228, only $303,000,000 short of the figure requested by Secretary of State George C. Marshall, for aid to Europe, China, Greece and Turkey. The giant self-help appropriation was regarded as a major victory for the bi-partisan foreign policy spearheaded by Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and a repudiation of the economy efforts of chairman John Taber (R-N.Y.) of the House appropriations committee.

Other Appropriations: Totaling about $14,000,000,000 to operate government agencies during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

FARM COMPROMISE

Compromise Farm Bill: Extending present price support policies for one year after wartime emergency laws expire Dec. 31, and incorporating a modernized parity formula and a supply-and-demand program of price supports beginning Jan. 1, 1950.

Pay Raises: For 1,330,000 federal workers, including postal employes who would get a $450 annual boost and classified civil service workers who would get $330.

Displaced Persons Bill: To admit up to 205,000 homeless Europeans to the U.S. during the next two years and allow 15,000 now in this country to remain.

Among bills that went into the discard included the Mundt-Nixon communist-control measure, civil rights legislation, oleo tax repeal, federal-aid-to-education, and extension of social security benefits.

Sanatorium Work Starts

Work was started today on Richland county's $800,000 tuberculosis sanatorium on State Route 39 southeast of the city.

Mrs. Hattie Hunt, donor of the building site, turned the first shovelful of earth for the project at 11 a. m.

Attending the ceremonies were county commissioners, members of the building commission headed by Dr. John S Hattery, chairman; Dr. Oren A. Beattie, superintendent of the present TB sanatorium on the Lexington road, employes from the sanatorium, Herbert Jones, architect, and construction men.

Dr. Hattery opened the brief ceremony by expressing gratification that after 20 years of effort, the dream was finally going to be realized. Maj. William Jones of the Salvation Army gave the invocation, echoing Dr. Hattery's gratitude in his prayer and asking the benediction of God on the project.

When Mrs Hunt had completed her part in the program, she turned to Dr. Hattery. "I want to thank everyone concerned," she said, "for bestowing on me the honor of being allowed to do this. We shall be ready at any time to give help whenever it is needed."

Tractors were ready and surveyors stood by, set to start the excavating.

The new sanatorium will be on the site formerly occupied by the CCC camp on the Lucas road. It is on a hill and affords a view for several miles

The sanatorium is expected to cost at least $800,000, including $642,643 for general construction. Louis Zahn, contractor, said he expected the building to be completed within 14 months

Mrs. Ida M Zoller, wife of Louis A. Zoller, died at noon today at her home, 38 Stewart avenue. She had been ill several months.

Surviving are her husband and a grandson, Burdette Shreffler jr.

The body was taken to the Wappner funeral home Funeral arrangements had not been completed early this afternoon.

Garbage Dumper Draws Fine

Mansfielder Haled Into Court By Sheriff

The third person in as many weeks to be caught by the sheriff's office illegally dumping garbage was fined $10 and costs in municipal court today.

James Rose, 188 North Main street, was convicted of dumping garbage on Stewart road on June 5. Sheriff Frank E. Robinson ordered him to clean up the garbage he dumped.

Three women arrested Saturday night by Mansfield police were sentenced to the workhouse at Toledo for 90 days on vice charges.

Henrietta Smith was charged with keeping a house of prostitution and Hazel Evans and Penelope Bryant were charged with soliciting for immoral purposes. All three gave their addresses as 65 East Sixth street.

Sam Carter, Longview avenue, was fined $75 and costs for failure to stop after an accident, and $5 and costs for failure to have an operator's license. His right to drive was suspended for six months.

James Van Hoose, Trailer City, was fined $25 and costs for fighting, and Stanley Frazier, 147 Rae avenue, was fined $10 for speeding.

Fined $5 and costs were Ralph Simpson, 171 East Fourth street, for having improper lights, and Charles Bain, 291 South Main street, for failing to signal a right turn.

Man Held on Gun Charge

A Crestline man who drew an empty gun on a Mansfield police officer was being held in city jail today for investigation.

Police also are questioning the man in connection with a fight he had with a North Adams street woman who alleged he threatened her with the gun.

Police apprehended the man at the Pennsylvania railroad round house While they were inspecting his car, looking for the gun, officers raised the hood The Crestliner grabbed a gun which was hidden beside the engine, but Lt. Howard Dickson drew his gun and forced the man to drop the other weapon

Robert Fisher, 314 East Fourth street, who was arrested by police after he shot a hole in a neighbor's door, is being held on a charge of carrying concealed weapons He will be arraigned tomorrow morning.

Car Ransacked

Mrs. Gloria Dailey, 433 South Diamond street, reported to police early today that her car had been ransacked of $11.50 worth of accessories and contents between 9:15 p. m. Sunday and 6.30 a. m. today.

'Poet Nauseate' Too Busy To Attend GOP Convention

The self-styled hobo poet, Leonard (Knute) Hofius, asserted today that due to a previous committment to officiate as master of ceremonies at the Fourth of July celebration at Chatworth, Ill., it would be impossible to attend the National Republican convention in Philadelphia.

"Everyone else is running so I should get in it too," Knute declared. "But I'm going to be too busy."

The "Poet Nauseate," as he calls himself, was scheduled to speak before Shelby Rotary club's luncheon meeting at the Shelby Inn today. His topic was "Bumology." He also is scheduled to speak to the Willard Rotary in the Grace Methodist church at 6:15 p m. today.

"Knute" has been on the road for 31 years. Born in West Middlesex, Pa., 58 years ago, the son of a stonecutter, he decided to get his education through experience.

His entire wardrobe consists of the clothes he has on, a pipe, tobacco, a shaving kit, matches, some correspondence from cities, clubs and notable people requesting his appearance and the brief case into which these all fit.

'Big 3' Makes Bid For Votes

was read by the first woman ever to perform this duty, Mrs. Dudley C. Hay of Michigan, secretary of the Republican national committee.

CLAIMS ADVANTAGE

Taft's backers claimed increasing evidence that he had the inside track in the contest for the big blocks of votes from Pennsylvania and Illinois.

They asserted confidence they can call on Illinois for at least 46 votes on the second ballot.

But Dewey supporters said they came out of the Illinois meeting with the idea that Gov. Dwight Green, that state's favorite son, wants to look around a while longer before releasing the delegates

'BIG MYSTERY'

The "big mystery" delegation is Pennsylvania. Its first caucus ended in 72 delegates voting for the favorite son, Sen. Edward Martin, and one voting for Vandenberg.

This ballot hid a bitter contest within the Pennsylvania delegation between Gov. James H. Duff and national committee Mason Owlett. Duff favors Vandenberg, but will take Martin or Taft, while Owlett favors Dewey.

On the surface, it would appear that Taft has a better strategic position than Dewey.

An International News Service poll of delegates showed Dewey likely to lead Taft 293 to 271 on the first ballot, but Taft likely to lead Dewey 368 to 340 on the second

The senator himself told a news conference he did not expect a deadlock. Two "very antagonistic forces" are needed to produce a deadlock, he said, and he did not believe such a situation would arise.

City to Get Safety Plaque

Official presentation of a plaque for winning the Ohio traffic safety contest in 1947 will be made to the city of Mansfield by two state officials at a dinner at the Mansfield-Leland hotel June 29.

Barney O'Donnell and William Knight, of the state highway department, will make the presentation at the dinner which will be attended by city officials, members of the state highway patrol and the traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mansfield won the 1947 contest for cities in the 25,000 population group, reporting only two fatalities during the entire year.

MISS NANCY JANE HAUPT WED IN FORMAL RITE

Ceremony Solemnized Sunday on 31st Wedding Anniversary of Bride's Parents.

ON THE thirty-first wedding anniversary of her parents, Miss Nancy Jane Haupt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Haupt, 483 Parkview street, exchanged wedding vows with Clyde Eugene Duncan jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Duncan sr., 404 South Diamond street. The wedding took place Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the St. Luke's Lutheran church with the Rev. Herbert S. Garnes officiating for the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with palms and beauty baskets of white gladiolus and white carnations.

Miss Haupt, given in marriage by her father, wore a nylon satin gown made with a sweetheart neckline and a bustle bow in the back of the skirt. The skirt fell into a short train and the long sleeves came to points over her hands. Her finger tip veil, bound with satin ribbon, was held in place by a beaded tiara. She carried on a white Bible a bouquet of shattered and whole white carnations and stephanotis, with a shower of narrow white satin ribbons on which were tied stephanotis. The Bible was a gift from the groom. During the ceremony, Mrs. Fred Cahall, organist, played "O Perfect Love."

Miss Susan Haupt, consin of the bride from Renovo, Pennsylvania, was the maid of honor. She carried a round bouquet of white carnations tied with long white streamers.

Misses Betsy and Mary Weller of Mansfield, friends of the bride, were the bridesmaids and carried front style bouquets of white carnations arranged loosely and tied with long white streamers. The flower girls were Barbara and Carole Haupt, cousins of the bride, from Detroit, Mich. The maid of honor was attired in a gown of nylon satin with short sleeves. The two bridesmaids were attired in embossed voile and the flower girls wore organdy dresses. All the attendant's gowns were patterned like the bride's.

Mrs. Haupt wore a grey and white Bemberg sheer dress with white accessories. Mrs. Duncan chose a black two piece dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

The guests were ushered to the pews, marked with white satin bows, by Leonard Duncan, brother of the groom, and Willard Rhonehouse, a close friend of the groom.

Albert Duncan served as best man for his brother's wedding.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church basement. Mrs. Harriet Ohlander, of Baltimore, Maryland and Mrs. Norman Haupt, from Renove, Pa., aunts of the bride, presided at a table centered with a three tiered wedding cake. The table was lighted with white tapers. Flowers used during the ceremony were placed throughout the basement.

Mrs. Duncan wore a blue butcher linen dress with a blue topper and white accessories for her honeymoon through Ohio and Pennsylvania. She wore the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Duncan is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school in the class of '48. Mr. Duncan graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and served 3½ years in the navy. He is employed at the Ohio Brass company.

Out-of-town guests were from Detroit, Michigan, Baltimore, Maryland, Williamsport, Pennsylvania, Ornille, Ohio, Alliance, Ohio, Canton, Cleveland, Rochester, New York, Johnstown, Ridgway and Renovo, Pennsylvania.

Rev. and Mrs. Simpson Feted By Church Congregation

THE YOUNG PEOPLE'S GROUP of the Bethel Evangelical Congregational church, other members of the church and friends met at North Lake park Friday evening for a surprise party given for the Rev. and Mrs. Gus Simpson. This party was given in appreciation for the work done by the pastor and his wife on the new parsonage and church. They were presented with a bronze lamp and personal gifts.

Albert Keckler was toastmaster for the program. The small children sang several selections. Mrs. Wilbur Goff and Richard Griffith sang a duet. Instrumental music was presented by Miss Laura Hamilton, Miss Helen Braen and Miss Helen Metzger.

Lunch was served from a table centered with a cake with the honored guests' names on it.

AUXILIARY MEETING

The Ladies Auxiliary of Eagles met Friday evening with the newly elected president, Mrs. Robert Gettins, presiding. Final plans were made for the benefit card party to be held Tuesday at Eagles hall. Reports of the Shelby and Ashland meetings were given by Mrs. John Dunsee, Mrs. Harry Magee, and Mrs. James Boggs. Prizes of the evening were won by Mrs. Boggs and Mrs. Otto Langhurst. The next regular meeting will be held July 2 at Eagles home.

Wooster Club of Mansfield To Convene at Bournes Home

The Wooster club of Mansfield will have its annual covered-dish supper Thursday, June 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell B. Bourns, 590 Russell road. All alumni, their families and friends of the College of Wooster are invited to this affair.

Among the guests to be present will be three presidents of the college, Dr. Howard Lowry, who is now president; Dr. Charles F. Wishart, president from 1919 to 1944, and Dr. J. Campbell White, former pastor of the United Presbyterian church here who served as president from 1915 to 1919. John D. McKee, public relations director; Ralph A. Young, dean of men, and Miss Maxine Heffelman, associate alumni secretary, will also represent the college.

The Mansfield club is one of 50 such alumni clubs throughout the United States, and its membership includes all alumni living in Mansfield and Richland county as well as those in Crestline and Bucyrus.

Clifford B. Smith jr., president of the Mansfield club, is serving as general chairman for this event. John Smucker, vice president, Lowell Bourns, admissions advisor, and Betty Blackstone, secretary, are also on the committee.

Horse Show Attracts Large Crowd

A colorful and entertaining horse show was presented Sunday afternoon by the Richland County Bit and Spur club under the sponsorship of the 37th Buckeye Division Veterans' Association of World Wars I and II.

The event which was attended by more than 2,000 people in the old stadium of Mansfield Senior High school, focused attention on Mansfielders as they stepped to the front for their share of trophies.

Probably the most thrilled section of spectators were the 50 youngsters from the Richland County Children's Home who were given free admission to the show, and free transportation to and from by the Mansfield Rapid Transit company.

The Grand Parade with 200 horses and riders participating opened the show at 1 o'clock. Attractive riding costumes and colorful flags made a spectacular showing as the entries paraded around the track.

The first event was the spotted horse class with C. E. Williams, president of the Bit and Spur club, winning second place on his horse, Trigger. The second event, the pair class, gave recognition to Vera Davis and Harold Hassinger of Ashland, who won second, and Boyer Goard and Bonnie Smith of Ashland, third. In the three gaited English class Roscoe McGinty won second place on his horse, Look Out Chief. Ken McCartney on Queen won second place in the Wheel-barrow race; C. H. Williams, fourth place, and Bob Wentz, fifth.

Third prize went to Harry German on Texas Moon for the plain color horse class.

Youngsters from all parts of the state participated in the pony class with Carol McCartney on King winning third place. In the western hitch class which was unusually difficult, Mike Cosgrove came in with fifth prize.

The bend and tie class brought first honors to Ken McCartney and in the Palomino class Mr. Williams again won first honors for his horse Rocky Point Victor with Mr. German riding.

Mr. Williams came in with fifth prize in the parade class for his horse Chico. In the pleasure horse class 18 year old Juanita Shaffer won first prize on her horse Roxy, Ronnie Frederick, fourth place on Champ; and Carol McCartney, fifth place on Tony.

Trigger, owned by Mr. Williams, won second honors in the equitation class and young Ken McCartney, fourth place in the stock horse class on Queen. Another Mansfielder, John Rudrick, won fourth honors in the fine harness class on Maple King, and Carl Stander's horse Lady Firefly came in third.

In the closing and 20th event, "Musical Keg," 17-year old Ken McCartney won first honors on his horse Qneen; Bill Beard, third place on Peter; and Charles Mowry, fifth place on Colonel.

Officers of the local club are Mr. Williams, president; Raymond Estep, vice president; Mrs. Harry McConnell, secretary; and Mrs. Raymond Crider, treasurer. H. B. Wentz announced all events and C O. Lister served as general chairman.

PRACTICE TONIGHT

There will be practice tonight at 7:30 at the Moose Home for the Women of the Moose installation of new officers. All old and new officers and their escorts are to attend.

Mrs. Arthur Cline, who was general chairman of the tea given Sunday afternoon at the Congregational parish house, is shown serving refreshments to Mrs. Peter Young and Rev. Young, honorees, Mrs. R. E. Hutchison and Mrs. M. V. Scouten. The informal reception honored Rev. Young and Rev. Harry Trust, former ministers of the Mansfield Congregational church.

Miss Ann Shaffstall Exchanges Vows With Roger Clayton Caskey Sunday

PURE WHITE faille taffeta was used to fashion the wedding gown worn by Miss Ann Louise Shaffstall when she became the bride of Roger Clayton Caskey Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the United Presbyterian church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Shaffstall, 87 Lind avenue, and Mr. Caskey's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Caskey, 730 North 16th street, Cambridge.

Rev. Charles L. Shook officiated for the exchange of nuptial vows before an altar banked with palms, ferns and two large beauty baskets of gladioli and delphinium. Seven branch candelabra illumiated the pretty scene.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Homer Geiger and soloist was David W. Dickson.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Shaffstall approached the altar in a wedding dress made with a square neckline and long, tight sleeves. A girdled band joined the waist and skirt and the front of the girdle extended into a front panel of the skirt, giving a semi-princess line. The exceptionally full skirt extended into a wide, sweeping train. Her lovely English illusion veil of fingertip length was attached to a tiny Mary of Scot bonnet of shirred illusion. She carried a Kaferette style bouquet of white Sno roses, white carnations and gardenia.

Miss Joan Senert, close friend of the bride, was her maid of honor. Miss Helen McClure, a roommate of the bride at Muskingum college, served as bridesmaid and Miss Eleanor Shook was flower girl.

The attendants wore like-styled gowns in apple green and snapdragon yellow in faille taffeta. They were fashioned with boat necklines, cap sleeves with detachable gauntlets, bustle backs over the full skirts which were worn over crinoline petticoats Both Miss Senert and Miss McClure wore tiny green leaf headbands with side arrangements of carnations in green and yellow contrasting with their gowns.

Little Miss Shook was attired in snapdragon yellow in a miniature copy of the other attendants' gowns. Miss Senert carried a Kaferette bouquet of green carnations and Miss McClure had yellow carnations. The little flower girl carried a miniature bouquet of both green and yellow flowers.

Mrs. Shaffstall wore a black and white print with white accessories and a corsage of Briarcliff roses and baby breath. Mrs. Caskey was attired in a black print with black accessories, and wore a corsage of Briarcliff roses and baby breath.

Serving as ushers were Ralph Caskey of Cambridge, brother of the bridegroom; Boyd Miller, Cambridge, close friend; Quaid Mishey and Carroll Greig, both of Mansfield, and both close friends. Charles Caskey of Cambridge, the bridegroom's brother, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 125 in the church parlors. Mrs. H. A. Senert cut the four-tiered wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. H. E. McClure served punch and other hostesses were Misses Paula Brunk, Nancy Bullock, Betty Dunn and Avis Hamilton.

For their wedding trip through southern Ohio, the bride wore a beige suit with red accessories and a corsage of Better Times roses. Upon their return they will reside at 152 West Fourth street.

The brige was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and Mansfield Business college and Muskingum college, New Concord. Mr. Caskey was graduated from Cambridge high school and served two years in the army.

Mrs. Caskey is employed at the Mansfield Health department and Mr. Caskey at the Charlet Ritter company.

Guests were in attendance from Cleveland, Cambridge, Marion, Crestline, Toledo, Detroit and Madison, N. J.

Congress Votes FCC Probe

engineering data and of threading through the red tape necessary to obtain licenses in Springfield and Mansfield, only to surrender them voluntarily when the revealing light of publicity was turned upon the operations? Did Lamb and his numerous corporations ever have any real intention of making use of all of the permits he was able to procure from the FCC? Or was Lamb planning to peddle off some of his licenses and thus capitalize on his "in" with the FCC?

The congressional probers would do well to find out just how well Mr. Lamb has met the FCC's requirement that an applicant for a broadcasting license must have financial ability to provide service in the public interest. This newspaper has pointed out in its news columns and in fact before an FCC examiner that Lamb's financial statements to the FCC in connection with his Mansfield application was found to contain statements in which certain stocks and securities were assigned values far in excess of their true market worth.

It has been shown that on a financial statement purporting to show Lamb's financial position as of Dec. 1, 1945, he over-valued listed securities by $60,587. It also was shown that in a statement which Lamb submitted in an effort to establish his position as of July 1, 1945, he over-valued securities $18,962.

When such discrepancies become apparent, simply through checking Lamb's listed values against actual securities market prices, how can confidence be placed in the remainder of his financial reports, or in any others of his claims?

In some instances on record, the FCC has revoked or refused to renew broadcasting licenses where it has been found that falsification and deception were employed in original applications for permits. The FCC has been upheld by the courts in this stand.

In the face of this, in a decision and order made and approved by the FCC itself, the Federal Communications commissioner found that the incorporators and founders of Mansfield's existing station, operated by Richland, Inc., made "false and misleading statements" as to its incorporation, and also when as an applicant it was stated there was "$20,000 in cash on hand . . . when in fact no such funds were on hand." Despite this determination by the FCC, however, that agency granted renewal of the Richland, Inc., (WMAN) radio permit in October, 1944.

This operation, as well as those of Mr. Lamb, deserves to come under closest scrutiny of investigators. In the interest or preserving decency in government, yes in the interest of preserving this very system of government, the whole FCC mess must be opened up, examined and set straight.

Congress Provides Campaign Material

THE EIGHTIETH CONGRESS, which adjourned yesterday morning after an all-night session, will be measured as much by what it neglected to do as by what it did, and the pro and con of its accomplishments and failures will probably enter largely into the campaign which is already under way but which will attain greater fury immediately after the national conventions of the two major parties—the first of which opens in Philadelphia today.

Belated passage of a compromise draft bill, which recognizes need for at least a small degree of military preparedness, will be the subject of more public interest than any other of the final acts of Congress, as minority opposition to any peacetime conscription has been extremely vocal.

Under this bill it is planned to draft young men between 19 and 25 years of age for 21 months of military training, this period being a compromise between the one year specified in the House bill and two years in the Senate bill.

The European aid program is assured a satisfactory start-off through the first year by appropriation of more than six billion dollars for this puspose—to be extended over 15 months if possible, but to be spent within a year if deemed necessary by the President.

Also to the credit of Congress is passage of a bill to increase the pay of postal workers and lower-bracket civil service employes, with exclusion of "upper-bracket" government employes.

On the discreditable side topmost place can be given to the failure of Congress to pass any effective housing legislation, despite Senate approval of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill containing a public housing feature bitterly opposed by real estate lobbyists and which was turned down by the House, which substituted a bill that eliminated any government spending to relieve the desperate need for low-cost housing.

Probably classing as a minor issue, although large in the minds of millions of people, was the neat jockeying in the Senate to prevent a vote on removing discriminatory federal taxes on margarines—a measure which had been passed by the House but which was blocked in the Senate, despite practically assured majority support.

Management Also Requires Training

CONVINCED that the price of survival as a great power is a large increase in production, the British government has allotted $600,000 to be spent during the next five years on a new project—the British Institute of Management.

The head of the institute, Sir Charles Renold, believes that the shortcomings of management in his country lie in strained relations between management and employes, between classes of workers, and between grades of management. Modern methods are not taken sufficient advantage of, and types of leadership are not high enough. He states that no other country does any better in these respects, but regards that as no reason for lack of effort to do better.

Sponsors of the institute claim that it is not enough to rely on an inborn talent for leadership, but that the most successful industrial heads must have experience and specialized training in management.

In America, the trend is toward centralizing problems relating to personal relationships in the personnel department of a factory or business house. Management as such directs production only. The British Institute may instil into its management trainees the techniques of smooth relationships as well as those of speed in production. The "born leader" usually has this knack, but it can be learned along with more tangible work methods and will be found equally valuable.

Why bother with a 7½-cent coin—the jump from a nickel to a dime seems plenty short.

"Land of Disenchantment."

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Thursday, June 21, 1928.

Richland County Bar association honored five members who had been in practice fifty years: H. B. Dirlam, N. M. Wolfe, Reid Carpenter, George Brinkerhoff and George W. Statler.

Jesse Beer was appointed Senior high school principal to succeed B. F. Fulks, who resigned.

Dr. C. S. Wilmuth, 36 South Main street, was re-appointed medical examiner for U. S. Marine Corps.

Miss Martha Grabosky and Paul Rachel were married by Rev. Walter A. Staub.

Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Kentosh, 510 North Mulberry street.

Attorney G. E. Kalbfleisch was speaker at Gyro club meeting and gave talk on "Wit and Humor of the Law."

Viewing the National Scene

Facing Great Challenge

By THOMAS L. STOKES

PHILADELPHIA—The Republican party organizing its national convention here faces one of its greatest challenges in a critical period for our nation and the world.

The prospects of victory in November only emphasize the challenge. Its triumph would put it in control of our government, and our government now occupies the undisputed leadership of the forces of freedom and democracy in the world.

Such a responsibility calls for a definite sense of direction and positive leadership.

Yet, behind the gay facade of the vanity fair which is "Candidate's Row" at every such national convention, there is something like a huckster's holiday with all that the huckster spirit implies.

Which is to say that the hectic bargaining for the nomination, the feverish angling for delegates among the leading candidates, has at the outset at least seemingly submerged consideration of the issues of the times. The danger here is in compromises on issues in a swap for delegate support here and there.

This huckstering, this trading for the sake of personal ambition, is intensified at this convention because it seems fairly certain that the man who gets the prize—the nomination—will be the next president of the United States. The rivalry is so keen that compromises on issues offer unusual temptations. Candidates, after all, are human beings.

* * *

Conflict Is Apparent.

THE SCENE is laid here for a great conflict over the dominant issue of the day. This is whether our nation is to continue to pursue in a bold and forthright manner the leadership which it has assumed, or whether it is to compromise this leadership by halfway measures on international cooperation and a slow retreat away from the ideals to which our people have subscribed wholeheartedly this time as they failed to do after the first World War.

This is the first Republican convention after another great war. It could barter away its great opportunity, as it did then, unless it is careful.

The conflict within the party lays bare before this convention like a fresh and angry wound. It is right before the eyes of every candidate, leader and delegate in the schism only recently demonstrated in Congress over continuation of our reciprocal trade program and appropriations for the European recovery program, just now the key measures in effective international economic cooperation. The two are inextricably intertwined and related.

This convention, in its candidates and in its platforms, can set the party's direction boldly forward, or it can compromise and wheedle. The choice stares it squarely in the face.

Leadership is available, if leaders can rise above personal ambition to exert themselves and give the representatives of the party gathered here a positive direction.

Among the leading candidates, effective international cooperation has its champions in Governor Dewey and Harold Stassen while its shining symbol is Senator Vandenberg who is the outstanding prospect as a compromise in event of a deadlock.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who is chairman of the resolutions committee which will draft the platform likewise is for effective international cooperation.

Washington Calling

A Look at 'Dark Horses'

By MARQUIS CHILDS

HOW many Republicans are going to Philadelphia with the secret hope that somehow the lightning of destiny may strike them is anyone's guess. That kind of hope springs eternal in the politician's breast.

Most conspicuous among these hopefuls is Gov. Earl Warren of California. He has the 53 delegates of California in his pocket to reinforce his hopes.

But Warren has an intangible asset that is almost equally important. As chief executive of perhaps the most dynamic and swiftly growing state in the union, he understands the need to adapt government to change.

This is to say he knows a great deal about social security, health insurance, housing, and the demands made upon present-day government. While his speeches are sometimes fuzzy, he has shown that he knows how to manage California's mercurial interests and at the same time win votes in both parties.

In other words, he is aware that we are living in mid-twentieth century. For better or worse, and it seems to be mostly worse, this is the era not the horse and buggy but of the supersonic plane and atomic energy.

Unfortunately, this awareness is not too widespread among the older members of the Republican national committee. They show, and this includes some of the very dark horses in the Philadelphia stable, a wistful desire to live in the shadows of yesterday.

Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr., is a warm, friendly congressman from Massachusetts who, through political astuteness and the process of seniority, has risen to conspicuous office. Faithfully in season and out he has followed the narrowest kind of party regularity.

* * *

Aided By Inaction.

WHILE he has never taken a public lead, neither has he ever done anything to check those in the House who tried to sabotage the program for Europe and who succeeded in blocking most social legislation. The fact is the obstructionists could not have operated without at least the tacit aid and consent of Speaker Martin.

He has some powerful backers, including the wealthy Pew family of the Sun Oil Co. In the event of a prolonged deadlock, a weary convention might settle on Martin.

In the same classification is Sen. John W. Bricker of Ohio. A handsome, distinguished figure, looking every inch a president, he lacks Martin's natural friendliness.

His party regularly is as narrow as that of Martin. It is underscored by his belief in the inevitable rightness of great wealth and particularly self-made wealth.

In his two years in the Senate he has done almost nothing except to get shot at by a disgruntled office seeker. In committee, and particularly on the Atomic Energy committee, he has displayed an intense fear of communism.

Bricker will put Taft's name before the convention with a resounding home and fireside speech. In his loyalty he has publicly decried the rumors labelling him a dark horse.

The convention could reach down deeper in the barrel. But the public would be inclined to resent a more obscure candidate conjoured out of the smoke-filled room.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

PHILADELPHIA — There are rumors that a willing candidate for vice president has been picked up. He is being held incommunicado until he can be delivered to the convention.

* * *

Authorities are undecided whether to give him an intelligence test before or after his acceptance speech.

* * *

As I undrstand it, he was on a train bound south and happened to mention in the smoker that he wouldn't mind taking the job. . . . The information was phoned ahead and he was removed at Philadelphia.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Dark-Horse Warren An Able Candidate

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's note—As the Republican convention opens in Philadelphia, Drew Pearson concludes his series on GOP Republican candidates by focusing the spotlight today on dark-horse Governor Earl Warren of California.)

* * *

PHILADELPHIA — If Republican leaders want to be sure of winning next November, if they want to carry a sizable portion of the Democratic, pro-labor vote, the man this convention will finally pick will be Gov. Earl Warren of California.

Of course, when GOP leaders sit down in the smoke-filled rooms, they are notorious for picking the man they 'want' rather than the man the people want. So the modest Mr. Warren, who has done nothing about corralling delegates, may not win their favor.

But history has proved that there is a large bloc of independent voters in this country which switches from one party to the other according to the candidate. Roosevelt was always able to swing this bloc to the Democrats. Warren, on the other hand, is the one Republican who can be sure of swinging them back to the GOP.

He has proved this in California. Asked how he was able to carry every one of California's 58 counties for governor in 1942, Warren replied: "I did it with Democrats." In 1946 he was so popular with both parties, that the Democrats as well as the Republicans re-nominated him. And in the recent California primary, Warren got about the same number of votes as Truman, despite the fact that there are 1,000,000 more registered Democrats than Republicans.

Unquestionably, Warren is the one 100 per cent sure-fire GOP candidate guaranteed to beat any Democrat, probably including Eisenhower.

* * *

Warren Vs. Dewey.

THERE is one great difference between Warren and Dewey. Both have given their states extremely efficient administrations. Both are highly competent executives. Both have spent almost all their lives in the complicated science of government.

But Warren has deep-rooted sympathy for human beings. Dewey his stood up for minorities, but his position seems to come from a sense of fairness and political expedience, not from sympathy.

An off-the-record conversation occurring at the governors' conference in Portsmouth, N. H., last week, illustrates the difference between the two men.

At a governors' breakfast, Dewey started lambasting the teachers' lobby, said it had flooded the country with falsehoods, urged that the governors start a counteroffensive.

Governor Jim Duff of Pennsylvania suggested that Dewey bring this up at the round-table scheduled for later in the morning.

"Oh, no," replied the New York governor, "not with the press present. That would ruin everything."

When other governors asked Dewey what he proposed, he suggested: "We'll call an executive session and exclude the press." Teachers' propaganda, he added, "is the biggest lie since Adolf Hitler."

So an executive session was called at which the press was barred, and at which Dewey proposed that Frank Bane, secretary of the governors' conference, hire a couple of publicity experts at $50,000 a year and start a campaign with full-page advertisements combatting the teachers' propaganda.

* * *

Teachers' Friends.

GOVERNOR WARREN and Governor Tom Mabry of New Mexico, a Democrat, didn't think much of this.

"In New Mexico," Mabry remarked, "we are short 600 teachers. We think teachers should be paid more than domestic servants, who get $50 a week—if you can find them. Common labor gets a dollar an hour. I don't see why you should single out the teachers' lobby. What about the utilities lobby, the oil lobby, the potash lobby, the liquor lobby and a lot of others? I can't see any reason why the teachers, who have always been underpaid, should be singled out."

Dewey maintained, however, that he had had no trouble with other lobbies.

"I don't know how it is in your state, Tom," argued Governor Warren, "and maybe as you say there is no teacher shortage in New York. But there certainly is in California, and many of the teachers are being paid less than the janitors. I certainly see no reason why the governors should take any action against the teachers such as you propose."

Dewey, however, still wanted the governors' conference to undertake a publicity campaign against the teachers. "I'm going to fight that lobby with everything I've got," he said. "If the governors' conference will stage a countercampaign, I'll double my state's contribution to the conference."

The other governors, however, would not go along on the anti-teacher publicity campaign, decided only to study the question of teachers' pay scales.

However, Dewey persisted. And another closed meeting was called at night, the press excluded, which lasted two hours. In the end the other governors still refused to along with Dewey.

* * *

Warren's Father Murdered.

EARL WARREN'S broad sympathy for people comes from the struggling days of his boyhood. He began life as a call-boy in a roundhouse in Bakersfield, Calif., where his job was to pedal to the homes of freight-train crews and notify them when their train was to be made up. His father, a master car-builder, got fired during a railroad strike, lost his home, had to move and look for work elsewhere. Later, his father was killed by an intruder who broke into their house and bludgeoned elder Warren to death. The murderer was never apprehended.

Warren understands and likes human beings. And they like him. He has been a great cleaner-up of California, has purged racketeers, the Ku Klux Klan, the big gamblers. He has served in state and county jobs for 30 years, knows the intricate job of running a government. He is an excellent speaker, but shuns the delicate job of trading delegates, pulling backstage wires so necessary to get a presidential nomination.

But if the Republican party wants to be 100 per cent sure of victory, Earl Warren is their best and ablest bet.

Brotherly Love On Tap

By KENNETH L. DIXON

PHILADELPHIA—This City of Brotherly Love is practically overflowing with same.

Certainly the happy atmosphere is a far cry from the last few days of harried lawmaking down in Washington. There the nights were long and tempers waxed short and fraternal affection gave way to fights and filibusters.

But here, as Republicans gather for the convention to select standard-bearers for what they confidently consider to be their full return to power in November, all is light and sunshine—at least on the surface.

Here, for instance, everybody is hopeful—or knows a hopeful—and this is a year in which you can't tell what today's hopeful might be tomorrow. So nobody snubs anybody, just as a matter of precaution. Even the generals in the camps of opposing hopefuls greet one another with passing pleasantries.

Here the congressmen no longer must engage in public squabbles. Instead, they don their campaign smiles and greet their constituents who have journeyed far to attend this quadrennial extravaganza.

Gone are the sad faces which marked those years in which it was secretly conceded, though never publicly admitted, that nobody could beat "that man." Even the least alternate among the large delegations is convinced that this year the "Grand Old Party" is on the road back.

And from the resulting facial reactions, you'd think that it was a convention of toothpaste and models, instead of politicians.

* * *

Honorable Mention.

FAR BE IT from this correspondent to suggest that there's anything phoney in all this friendliness. Nothing could be farther from the truth. These leading candidates, for example, have never been more sincere in their lives. And you can see why.

Perhaps a score of state delegations will cast their first convention ballot for as many favorite sons, when it comes time to start the voting.

This is the convention equivalent to getting honorable mention in the school contests on graduation night, but no national conclave would be complete without it.

However, once that honor has been duly paid, the "favorite son" delegations will then be ready to get down to business and throw their vote to somebody who has a chance to win. And if pleasant smiles and exhibitions of brotherly love will win over a single delegation, the hopefuls will continue grinning and being fraternal if it kills 'em!

Also, you find a surprising amount of friendliness and good cheer surround such state delegations as Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas and the like—considering their relatively small delegations, that is.

Cause of that is that when the nominating begins—and, for that matter, when the voting starts—it will be done by roll-call of state delegations, in alphabetical order. In case an "A" state, for instance, has no candidate to offer, it may give its nominating time over to some other state.

Otherwise, states such as Minnesota, New York and Ohio, to name a few, would have to wait quite a while to get their candidate before the convention. Thus, the brotherly love is particularly strong around the early alphabetical states.

Also, in that regard, should there be a deadlock in the balloting, it will be the uncommitted states high in the alphabet that will start the landslide for some one of the hopefuls.

The Nation Today

Here's Way It's Done

By JAMES MARLOW

HERE'S an ABC on the Republican National Convention which opens today in Philadelphia.

Usually, a convention like that finishes up in one week. If it's deadlocked, it may go on for two weeks or more.

It will do three main things:

1. Choose a Republican candidate for president.
2. Choose a Republican candidate for vice president.
3. Draw up a party platform.

(This platform is a list of the Republicans' promises of what they'll do for the country, if they win in November.

(The platform is put together by a picked group of top Republicans. Then the convention automatically approves it.)

The candidates will be chosen by delegates sent to the convention by Republicans in every state and the territories, like Hawaii and Alaska.

There are 1,094 of those delegates. At least 548 votes, a majority of the 1,094, are needed to nominate the candidates.

Those delegates don't vote in a secret ballot box like the one you'll use when you vote for a president in the November election.

Their voting is wide open on the convention floor, with the delegates from each state or territory announcing their vote.

This doesn't mean each delegate individually pops up and says "I vote for Joe Doakes."

When all the delegates of one state agree to vote for one man, the delegation chairman stands up and announces the vote.

* * *

SOMETIMES there's a split among the delegates from one state, one group voting for one man, the other for a second candidate. For example:

Eight of Wisconsin's 27 delegates are pledged to vote for General MacArthur. The other 19 are pledged to Harold E. Stassen.

The delegates themselves have been picked in different ways to go to Philadelphia.

Some were chosen by Republican voters in their states in popular elections. Others — most — were chosen in Republican state conventions.

Each state picks its delegates its own way. There's no single rule or method for doing it.

The delegates—although not all of them—usually go to the convention "Instructed" or "pledged" to vote for a certain candidate.

The instructions or pledges are the result of state elections for delegates or agreements worked out in state conventions. For example:

In Wisconsin in April different slates of Republicans ran for election as delegates to this convention.

One group pledged itself to vote for Stassen, if elected; a second pledged itself to MacArthur; a third to New York's Governor Dewey.

No Dewey man won. Those elected were: 19 pledged to Stassen, eight to MacArthur.

So in Philadelphia the Stassen delegates will vote for him, the MacArthur delegates for the general.

But all the Republican delegates from California are going to the convention pledged to vote for their governor, Earl Warren.

All this explains why Stassen and Dewey and Senator Taft, actively seeking nomination, have been so busy in the past months trying to line up delegates for themselves before the convention opens.

Miss Muriel Swartz To Become Bride of Arthur W. Simpson

MRS. J. M. SIMPSON, 144 Hedges street, entertained the Floral Hedge club Friday evening. Miss Muriel Swartz, bride-elect of Arthur W. Simpson, was honored with a shower at that time. Twenty-two members were present for the party. The Floral Hedge club presented Miss Swartz with a gift of china and Mrs. Simpson gave her a gift of linen.

Guests present were Mrs. James Bryant and Mrs. James Bryant jr.

Games and contests were the diversion of the evening.

Refreshments were served by the hostess from a table decorated with yellow, pink and green.

Miss Swartz and Mr. Simpson will be married June 27 at the Episcopal Methodist church in Galion.

The next meeting of the Floral Hedge club will be a picnic at the home of Mrs. Claude Phipps, 143 Hedges street.

Auxiliary Holds Social Meeting

Mrs. V. C. Hageman presided for the opening ritual of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Alfred I. Harrington Post No. 3494, Friday evening when they met for a regular business and social meeting.

One petition was read for membership. Mrs. Mabel Harrington, Mrs. Harry Packer and Mrs. Floyd M. Myers were initiated into the organization by the chaplain, Mrs. Elizabeth Harter. Reports from the various committees were given by the chairmen. General orders on the coming convention to be held in Cincinnati were read by the secretary, Mrs. Eugene Shill.

After the business session lunch was served at one long table, buffet style. The appointments were in keeping with Flag day. Mrs. Helen Minard, Mrs. Marie Castor and Miss Ernestine Gamble were the hostesses for the meeting.

The next meeting will be a social and initiation on July 2 at 8 p. m.

Nite Lark Club Meets at Mawhorrs

The Nite Lark club met at the home of Mrs. V. G. Mawhorr, Olivesburg road, Friday evening. Three guests, Mrs. Paul Henrick of New Orleans, La., Mrs. Clark Mottayaw and Miss Dorothy Page were present. After the short business meeting contests were held with the prizes going to Mrs. B. C. Mawhorr and Mrs. Lester Graham. The door prize was won by Mrs. William Frontz. The three guests were presented with prizes. A luncheon was served by the hostess at a late hour.

The next meeting will be July 9 at 205 South Franklin street, with Mrs. Harold Marvin as hostess.

Beta Kappa Tau Meets

Mrs. Herbert Palmer presided at the regular business meeting of Beta Kappa Tau sorority recently in the clubrooms at the YMCA. She appointed Mrs. Harold Schnittke as chairman of the July social committee. Assisting her will be Mrs. Robert Yeager and Mrs. Richard Talmadge.

Final plans were made for the Children's Fair which the group is having July 7 at 6 p. m. at the corner of Fourth and Mulberry streets. This fair is open to children of all ages and adults. The group hopes to make it a yearly affair.

The proceeds will go to buy a movie projector for the Richland County T. B. sanatorium. The fair will include clowns with balloons, concessions, refreshments and rides. The sorority is working on this with Stanley Kamen, city recreation director.

The general chairman for the affair is Mrs. Ernest Yoakum. Mrs. Gerald Davidson, publicity; Mrs. Harold Heston, concession; and Mrs. Harold Schnittke, refreshments, were the other committees appointed.

The next regular meeting will be July 1 in the clubrooms of the YMCA.

Stevens Home Scene of Meet

The Johnny Appleseed Garden club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Stevens, 535 Maple, with the president, Mrs. Otis Cummins, presiding. Mrs. Cummins also served as associate hostess for the afternoon. The salad luncheon was served on the lawn of Mrs. George Stephens home, Marion avenue. Mrs. Oliver Henkel and Mrs. Thomas Ford poured. Underneath a glass top serving table was an arrangement of mock orange and pink and white mountain laurel.

Mrs. Ephriam Brown of the Mansfield Garden club was the guest speaker for the afternoon. She spoke to the group on "Let's Make Corsages." Before demonstrating her subject she read a paper on the rules of arranging. The members then each made one corsage to be sent to the hospital.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Black, Millsboro road, July 2.

INSTALLATION

Women of the Moose will hold installation of officers at the Moose Home on Wednesday evening. This is open to the public.

Maybe You're Too Young...

NEW BRIDE? Then you probably don't remember how American housewives helped relieve the desperate shortage of fats and oils during the war . . . simply by saving used fats. That shortage is still with us . . . still very serious, says the government. The one way you can help ease it today is by saving and turning in every drop of used fats.

Maybe You've Just Forgotten..

BEEN KEEPING HOUSE FOR YEARS? You may not realize that the grand job you did of saving fats during the war must still go on! Go back to your old salvage tricks again. Melt down meat trimmings. Skim gravies. You'll get lots more fat! Re-use it, if you wish. But even after that, there's always something left to save! Pays you cash, you know . . . the only kitchen waste product that does. And how cash helps on today's grocery bills!

USED FATS ARE STILL NEEDED — KEEP TURNING THEM IN!

Miss Joan Scott Becomes Bride On Sunday

Before an altar banked with palms, two large beauty baskets of white gladiola and altar vases of white gladiola, Miss Joan Scott became the bride of William R. Erdenberger, Sunday at 4 p. m. The Rev. V. C. Stamets officiated for the wedding that took place in the First Evangelical United Brethren church. The scene was lighted by candles at the altar and windows.

Miss Scott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray O. Scott, 464 Sloane avenue, and Mr. Erdenberger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell K. Erdenberger, 21 Stewart road.

The Treble choir and a trio made up of Miss Betty Murray, Miss Joann Soloman and Miss Shirley Rankin provided the nuptial music. Miss Louise Krause was the organist.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She was dressed in a gown of ice blue bridal satin made with a high neckline and long sleeves that came to points over the hands. Tiny buttons were down the back of the dress to the waist. The long train fell from a peplum at the waist. The virgin style veil of white net and lace was held in place with a beaded tiara.

She carried a handkerchief that the groom's grandmother had carried when she graduated in 1895. The only jewelry worn by Miss Scott was a necklace of pearls, a gift from the groom. A Colonial style bouquet of white roses, white carnations, and white sweetpeas made up the flowers carried by the bride.

Miss Jean Hunt, a close friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a pink dotted swiss gown. Miss Shirley Jean Scott and Miss Beverly Jane Scott, both cousins of the bride, were the senior brides maids. They wore blue dotted swiss and yellow dotted swiss, respectively.

Miss Carol Jeanette Eby and Miss Patsy Scott, cousins of the bride, from Ashland, were dressed in pink and blue organdy. They were the junior bridesmaids. The flower girl, Barbara Lewis, of Ashland and the bride's cousin, wore a yellow dotted swiss dress.

David Allan Berger, of East Aurora, New York, was the ring bearer for the ceremony.

The attendants carried assorted flowers in colors to harmonize with the gowns. All of the bouquets were in Colonial style tied with ribbons to match their dresses. The flower girl carried a white basket tied with a yellow ribbon and filled with pink rose petals.

Mrs. Scott wore a grey crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Erdenberger chose a dressmaker suit of powder blue with black accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was of pink roses.

John E. Erdenberger, Richard W. Erdenberger, both brothers of the groom, Robert M. Anthony and Wallace V. Campbell, close friends of the groom, escorted the guests to their pews.

Robrt P. Erdenberger acted as best man for his brother's wedding.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for two hundred guests was held in the church parlors. The table was centered with a wedding cake topped with three wedding bells. A bride and groom was placed beside the bottom layer. Vases of flowers were on each side of the centerpiece. White twisted candles were placed at each end of the table. The room was decorated with ferns and garden flowers. A heart of flowers and fern was at the door. Eight close friends of the bride served refreshments.

Mrs. Erdenberger graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and is an active member of the Treble choir. Mr. Erdenberger is a graduate of Madison high school and is a student at Ohio State university. Mrs. Erdenberger is employed at the R. B. Maxwell Co.
